MRS. ELLEN CRANE IS BURNED TO DEATH

STOOD LIKE PILLAR OF FLAME

Overturned Candle While She Was Reading in Bed—Daughter Makes Heroic Effort to Save Her Mother.

Mrs. Ellen L. Crane, one of Oakland's well-known society women and mother of William W. Crane, paying teller of the Union National Bank, died last night at her home as the result of frightful burns received Monday night while she was reading in bed by candle light. Since the terrible accident Mrs. Crane has been under the constant care of physicians, but her burns were of such a serious nature that medical science was of no avail. Mrs. Crane makes the fourth victim to be claimed by death in its most agonizing form during the last forty-eight hours in this city.

RETIRED EARLY.

On the evening that the flames wrapped themselves around Mrs. Crane she had retired early, as was her custom. A candle rested on the table beside her. In some manner it overturned and in a moment had ignited the night gown of the victim and also set fire to the bed clothing. Mrs. Crane made a heroic effort to put the flames out, but owing to fright and her feebleness she was not able to extinguish the burning clothing. She gave several piercing screams and made an effort to go to her daughter, Mrs. Mary H. Hettrich, who was in the adjoining room. The mother reached the threshhold of her own room, but was unable to go farther. Her daughter responded to the terrific alarm of her mother, and when she appeared on the scene a most awful sight presented itself.

ALL IN FLAMES.

Her mother was standing perfectly erect in the doorway, unable to make an effort to put the blazing night gown out. The fire was shooting from the bottom of the garment toward the ceiling, almost touching it. The victim's hair was hanging loosely by her side and was also afire, lending horror to the scene. The power of even screaming had left the victim and she stood like a martyr of old enveloped in consuming flames.

With great heroism and presence of mind the daughter rushed past her mother, caught up a comforter and wrapped her mother in it. The fire was quickly smothered, but the mother had been terribly burned. One side had been blistered. The hands, arms and face of the victim had also been scorched. Medical aid was summoned and the sufferer was made as easy as possible. The greatest damage was probably done while Mrs. Crane was standing in the doorway like a pillar of fire. It is thought that she breathed the flames, thus doing irreparable damage to her lungs.

It was necessary after the mother had been rescued to put out the fire in the bed clothing.

WELL-KNOWN WOMAN.

The fire's victim was one of the best known women in Oakland. She was the widow of the late well-known attorney, and for years had been considered one of Oakland's foremost social leaders. Her gracious and lovable dispositon had endeared her to hundreds in the community. Her tragic death will be a terrible shock to those that knew her. She was 76 years of age and had resided in this city for the most of her life.

She leaves three children, two sons and one daughter.

KING CHARLES GOING TO HAVE A ROYAL TIME

KING CARLOS I OF PORTUGAL.

He Will be Wined and Dined During His Stay in French Capital.

PARIS, November 22.—King Charles of Portugal arrived here today to return President Loubet's visit to Lisbon. The King will remain here three days and will be entertained with state dinners, a gala performance at the Opera, a military review and a hunt. The streets and public buildings are elaborately decorated. The King was met at the Dauphine station by M. Loubet and Premier Rouvier and was escorted with imposing military honors to the Foreign Office, where the royal quarters have been established.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND

Expected to Throw Light on the Mysterious "Suit Case."

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—A new and important witness who will appear against the three men under indictment in connection with the death of Susanna Geary, the suit case victim, has been found, the police say, in Miss Sarah Elizabeth Griffiths, a nurse who, it is alleged, attended the chorus girl while the latter was dying.

This nurse has made statements to the police which, the authorities claim, will be of material assistance to the prosecution in the trial of the cases against Dr. Percy D. McLeod, William Hunt and Lewis Crawford, the accused men.

The police say that Miss Griffiths has satisfied them that she is in no way criminally liable in the case, having been called in as nurse after a second operation, intended to save the Geary woman's life, had been performed

BIG CLOUDBURST NEAR SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22.—Late yesterday evening a cloudburst occurred in the Otay Valley, ten miles southeast of this city. A tremendous volume of water fell in a short period, filling a dry river bed with a deep stream to the sea. No serious damage was done at any of the ranches and the water has ceased flowing today.

Rain continued falling at intervals in this city during last night, adding .46 of an inch to the precipitation, making 3.70 for the season.

Since early morning there has been a light but steady downfall, which bids fair to continue all day. The wind has subsided and the temperature is still low.

RUSSIAN EMPEROR TO AID PEASANTS

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The State Department today received a cablegram from Mr. Eddy, Charge d'Affaires of the American Embassy at St. Petersburg, bringing this information: "The Imperial proclamation to-day states that during the year 1906 the payments on land granted to peasants will be diminished by one-half and will cease entirely on January 1, 1907, the peasants then becoming owners of the land. For peasants who have not taken up land the Emperor will afford increased facilities to his Peasants' Bank to advance them money so that they may profit by the new arrangement."

NEW CUNARD LINER.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 22.—The Cunard line steamer Carmania, the largest turbine steamer afloat, has arrived in the Mersey preparatory to starting on her maiden voyage to New York December 2d. The Carmania is of 21,000 tons register, is 675 feet long and has 75 feet beam and has accommodation for 3000 passengers. Tests of the Carmania's speed are proceeding off the Mersey this afternoon.

M'NULTY'S CASE

Warrants May Be Issued Charging Attempt to Square Case.

BERKELEY, November 22.—Lester McNulty, until yesterday Deputy County Clerk, who has been charged with a grave crime by Dorothy Olsen, a domestic in the employ of J. S. Marshall, the Berkeley capitalist, will appear in the court room of Justice of the Peace Robert Edgar tomorrow morning to listen to his arraignment on the complaint sworn to by the young woman.

McNulty will at the time enter a plea of "not guilty," and the date for the preliminary hearing will be set. The young clubman has secured Attorney A. L. Frick to defend him. He is confident of clearing himself of all stain in connection with the charge.

Marshal Vollmer, now that the action of Miss Olsen in swearing to the complaint has made it possible for him to go ahead, is making every effort to secure evidence in the case. The detectives who have been at work on the case, have collected much information which is said to be damaging to the case of the accused. It is also possible that warrants may be sworn to charging attempts to compound a felony. According to Marshal Vollmer's reading of the law, Miss Olsen herself may be guilty of crime, having agreed at one time to refrain from prosecuting McNulty. In view of her statement that she knew from the first that McNulty was the party who attacked her, her subsequent conduct is thought to be peculiar.

CONSUL WYNNE BACK FROM GERMANY

NEW YORK, November 22.—Arriving here today on the steamer Oceanic from Liverpool were Consul-General Robert J. Wynne, formerly United States Postmaster-General, and Captain W. S. Biddle, military attache of the Embassy at Berlin. Mr. Wynne will go to Washington to testify in the legal prosecutions growing out of the investigation of the postoffice frauds.

LONDON, November 22.—The British steamer Lord Dufferin, from Port Talbot for Galveston, is being towed into Queenstown by the British steamer Capella from Galveston for Liverpool. The main shaft of the Lord Dufferin broke yesterday.

BLAMES MATRIMONY

Man Goes Insane; Too Much Domestic Trouble.

Fred Graves, who a few nights ago attempted suicide by taking poison at his home at 1462 Linden street, after having trouble with his wife, has been charged with insanity, and is now confined in the insane ward of the Receiving Hospital. He was only resuscitated at the hospital by Steward Harry Borchert after he was practically dead, and it is now believed that he is of unsound mind, and steps are to be taken to have him committed to an asylum.

Graves, it is believed is the victim of much matrimonial trouble. He has been married three times. His second wife died while he was suing her for divorce and he got a divorce from his third wife, who was charged by a Mrs. Mary E. Smith with having been responsible for the breaking up of her home and the alienation of the affections of her husband, William H. Smith.

A week later Graves sued on the same state of facts, alleging an undue fondness on her part for Smith.

While his case was pending Smith went to the Graves home one day and found Mrs. Graves nearly dead from the inhaling of gas, having attempted suicide.

Graves got a divorce from her, but they have again assumed marital relations. He was formerly a conductor on one of the Berkeley locals, and his son, also a conductor, took his life in San Francisco only a short time ago.

AMERICAN BASEBALL MAGNATES MEET

CHICAGO, November 22.—All of the magnates of the American Baseball League with the exception of John I. Taylor of Boston are in the city to attend the regular fall meeting of the organization which was set for today. It is not expected that much business of importance will be transacted.

TEMPERATURES.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22, 7 a. m.—Temperatures: New York, 36; Boston, 36; Philadelphia, 40; Washington, 30; Cincinnati, 30; Chicago, 32; St. Louis, 28.

ESCAPE DROWNING

Alameda Men Nearly Lose Lives While Out Yachting.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—Buffeting about on the heavy seas running yesterday on the bay near Coyote Hills, Alexander Fields of this city, who was acompanied by Timothy Perkins in the former's yacht, "Albatross," on a hunting trip, came near being wrecked had it not been for the good seamanship of Mr. Fields and his companion, in their effort to reach shore after the forward hatch had been torn away.

Fields left here on Friday, accompanied by Dr. J. M. Young of Walnut street, in the latter's yacht, "Hully Gee," and M. Fish. They intended to hunt for several days in the sloughs in the Coyote Hills, and met with success, but found themselves stormbound for three days at that point.

Yesterday morning the yachtsmen, believing that the storm had subsided, they set sail for this city, but outside the hills they met with contrary winds and were tossed upon the waves. The "Hully Gee," under double-reefed sails, succeeded in reaching Alameda in safety, but Mr. Field's yacht, "Albatross," did not have such good fortune. A great comber, which swept over the deck of the "Albatross," carried away the forward hatch and threatened to swamp the vessel in a few moments. Mr. Fields tore away the door from the cabin and threw it over the gap on the deck where the hatch had been. Upon this door young Perkins was obliged to stand for the rest of the trip.

After being tempest tossed for five hours, Mr. Fields and his companion succeeded in reaching the wharf opposite Hayward, with their mainsail torn to shreds in the gale, and the yacht badly wrecked. They made their way on the trolley car, and arrived in this city at a late hour.

COMMITS SUICIDE.

OMAHA, Nov. 22.—J. P. Radman, manager of the Papillion Times, of Papillion, committed suicide last night by shooting, because of ill health.

LEFT HIS FAMILY TO STARVE OR BEG

San Leandro Man Runs Away and Church People Save Little Ones From Cold and Hunger.

CLARENCE KIDWILER, HIS WIFE, CHILDREN AND HOME AT SAN LEANDRO.

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 22.—Clarence D. Kidwiler of San Leandro is accused of having deserted his young wife and four little children, leaving them without food or fuel, with scarcely clothing enough to cover them, and with the merest pittance worth of furniture, in a little house on Davis street.

He left his home last Friday morning, for Oakland, where he worked, saying that he would not be home until Saturday night, which was not unusual. He did not return and has not been seen since in San Leandro. The fact is, he was wanted by the police of one of the cities of Southern California a year ago, for the desertion of his family. This justifies the belief that he has against deserted them.

The wife is a comely, pleasant little woman, and the children are engaging and well behaved. The oldest is scarcely four years old, and the youngest less than six months.

SHE WAITED IN VAIN.

After waiting in vain for his homecoming until Tuesday, with no fire to keep them warm in the windy and sharply cold weather, and with practically nothing to eat, the mother notified Marshal Geisenhofer.

The marshal, seeing the plight the little family were in, immediately notified Rev. J. E. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who, with the help of some of the women of his congregation and others, soon had them supplied with something to eat, and at least enough fuel to keep them warm until it could be found what had become of the father.

As already stated, this is not the first time that Kidwiler has gone away from home in a way that would justify the belief that he meant to permanently desert his little family, as the following notice received by Marshal Geisenhofer nearly a year ago, testifies:

"San Diego, Cal., Dec. 17, '04.

"City Marshal, San Leandro, Cal.—Dear Sir: I inclose photo of a man we are wanting, and have learned today that he has recently located at your place. The man wanted is the [illegible] wearing a white cap. He is a [illegible] and will either go to work f[illegible] shop or open one of his own.

"Description—Clarence D. [illegible] age, 28; height, 5 ft. 9 in.; w[illegible] to 135; smooth shaven; l[illegible] nose; eyes blue; hair brown, [illegible] parted in the middle, with long lock in front; bridge of nose crooked; scar from bed sore on small of back; complexion florid. Cigarette fiend and talks women. If located wire at my expense for instructions. Thanking you in advance for the favor above solicited, I beg to remain, very respectfully,

"A. A. THOMAS,
"Chief of Police."

It was as the Chief of Police of San Diego had suspected, or been informed. Kidwiler was in San Leandro, and Marshal Geisenhofer wired to that effect; but finding that his whereabouts were known, Kidwiler sent his wife money, the family came on here, and the matter against him was accordingly not pressed.

QUESTIONS BEFORE LABOR FEDERATION

PITTSBURG, November 22.—An effort is being made by the delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor to complete the work of the convention by tomorrow, but there are many questions yet to be considered and the final adjournment may not come until the end of the week.

President Gompers' report was again before the convention at today's session and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Recommending the exclusion of Chinese, Japanese and Korean labor from this country and its possessions; prohibiting the employment of child labor; instructing the executive council to select one labor organization against which an injunction has been granted, employ competent legal talent and carry the case to the United States Supreme Court to test the constitutionality of the injunction laws now in force; pledging support to the striking printers, and recommending the calling of a meeting of the International Women's Labor League to adjust differences said to exist in that beneficial auxiliary of the Federation.

Under a special order of business the grievance committee's report on the dispute of the brewery worker's union against the engineers and firemen, which was under consideration yesterday, was again taken up.

SENDS GREETINGS TO PRESIDENT

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 22.—King Haakon VII and Queen Maud held a reception of the diplomatic corps today. Talking to the American Minister, Thomas J. O'Brien, the new King of Norway asked him to carry his warmest greetings and thanks to President Roosevelt and the American Government for the President's recent kind message.

ASSESSOR DALTON TELLS OF HIS VICTORY

Does Not Care What Enemies May Say or do But Will Put His Faith in the People.

In speaking of the decision of the Supreme Court in his favor, County Assessor Henry P. Dalton today said:

"Words fail to describe my pleasure and satisfaction with the decision of the Supreme Court, in upholding the position I took, under the advice of my attorneys, Fitzgerald and Abbott, as to my right, under the law, to retain the commissions for the collection of poll-tax. I contended for what I believed to be right, and my contention has been sustained by the highest court in the State.

"The litigation has been going on for more than six years, and today I stand vindicated by the Supreme Court of this State in the position I took in the face of the yapping and howling of my political enemies.

"I went before the people at the last election as an independent candidate for County Assessor with this litigation hanging over my head, and received a verdict at the hands of the people that I am proud of, and now my victory has been added to by a verdict in my favor by the Supreme Court of the State of California.

"I have been deprived of drawing my salary as County Assessor for more than four years on account of this litigation.

"I know not what may be trumped up against me by my political enemies, to try to prevent me from being elected County Assessor at the next county election which takes place next November. I care not what my enemies may say or do, I have confidence in the people, and I will submit my case to the people at the proper time, and await their verdict."

THE DECISION.

The decision is as follows:

Department Two. County of Alameda, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. Henry P. Dalton, et al., Defendants and Appellants:

"The defendant and appellant, Henry P. Dalton, was the Assessor of Alameda county during the year 1899, and the other defendants and appellants were his official bondsmen. As such Assessor Henry P. Dalton during said year collected State poll taxes amounting to $25,501, and retained for his own use $3825.15, being fifteen per cent thereof, to which he claimed that he was entitled as commissions allowed by law for collecting the same, and turned the rest into the treasury of said county. This action was brought to recover the amount so retained by him. In their answer, defendants admitted the facts alleged in the complaint, but claimed that defendant Henry P. Dalton retained said sum of $3825.15 as matter of right because allowed him as compensation under the laws of the State for collecting said State poll taxes. Judgment was rendered for plaintiff upon the pleadings, and defendants appealed therefrom and come here on the judgment roll alone.

SOLE QUESTION.

"The sole question presented on this appeal is whether the appellant, Henry P. Dalton, as such Assessor of Alameda county, was entitled to receive and retain such percentage for his own use and benefit, and its solution involves a matter purely of statutory construction.

"The State poll tax, compensation for the collection of which is the matter in question here, is a per capita tax, which, under section 12, Art. XIII of the Constitution, is authorized to be levied and collected by the Legislature, and which is required to be paid, when collected into the State school fund. It is distinctively a State tax, and as said by this court in County of San Luis Obispo vs. Felts, 104 Cal. 64: 'It is fair, reasonable and just that they (the poll taxes) should be charged with such expense (of their collection) and, indeed, the fact that they are exclusively a State tax makes it peculiarly appropriate that the agents of their collection should be compensated by a percentage of their collection, rather than out of the salary or general funds of the county.' It is provided by section 3840 of the Political Code that the Assessor must collect this tax, and by section 3862 that, 'the Assessor, for services rendered in collection of poll taxes, shall receive the sum of fifteen per cent.' In the case above quoted from San Luis Obispo County vs. Felts—the constitutionality of the latter section was in question and decided to be valid.

REGULATE COMPENSATION.

"For the purpose of regulating the compensation of county officers the several counties of the State were, by the County Government Act of 1897, classified, and under such classification the County of Alameda became (as the court will take judicial notice) a county of the third class—the only one of that class in the State.

"The sections of that act, in as far as they affect the rights of Assessors of counties of the third class to retain commissions for the collection of poll taxes, are as follows: Subdivision 7 of section 160 declares: that 'It is hereby further provided, that in counties of this class (the third class) the Assessor shall receive no commission for his collection of taxes on personal property, nor shall such Assessor receive any compensation or commission for the collection of poll taxes or road poll taxes * *.'

"And Section 215 of the of the same act provides: "The salaries and fees provided in this act shall be in full compensation for all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers herein named * * * provided * * * the assessor shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use six per cent on personal property tax collected by him * * * and fifteen per cent of all amount collected by him for poll taxes and road poll taxes, and also five dollars per hundred names returned by him as subject to military duty, as provided in Section 1901 of the Political Code; * * * provided, however, that in counties, and cities and counties, of the first, second and third classes, the assessor shall receive no commission for the collection of taxes on personal property, nor shall such assessor receive any compensation for making out a military roll of persons returned by him as subject to military duty, as provided by Section 1901 of the Political Code. * * *.'"

LAW ON THE SUBJECT.

"These sections constitute the law upon the subject of the compensation of the assessor for the collection of State poll taxes. Each section is directed to that subject and assumes to deal completely and exclusively with the matter. It is quite apparent at first glance, however, that the above quoted provisions are radically at variance with each other. Subdivision seven of Section 160 declares that the assessor shall not receive compensation for the collection of poll taxes, while Section 215 not only declares that he shall receive it, but that he shall retain it for his own use and benefit. Both of these sections cannot be made to apply to the County of Alameda, and the question presents itself, which one of them prevails as to that county; whether the prohibition in subdivision seven of Section 160 is to be considered as a special exemption to the general provision in Section 215, or whether, the sections are irreconcilable, and if they are, must Section 215, which is later in position in the general act than subdivision seven of Section 160, be deemed the latest expression of legislative intent upon the subject, and for that reason prevail over the subdivision of the prior section. It is insisted by respondent that the court should apply the rule as stated in Bateman vs. Colgan, 3 Cal. 586, that: 'Where two statutes treat of the same subject, one being special and the other general, unless they are irreconcilably inconsistent, the latter, though latest in date, will not be held to have repealed the former, but the special act will prevail in its application to the subject matter, so far as coming within its particular provisions.'"

RULE NOT APPLIED.

"But the rule there announced cannot avail this respondent, because it can be applied only in cases where there is no irreconcilable inconsistency between the special and the general statute. In the case at bar it is quite apparent that there is such irreconcilable conflict between these two provisions of the statute. There is no way in which they can be harmoniously construed. By the very terms of both sections special reference is made to counties of the third class, of which, as we say, we will take judicial notice that Alameda county is of that class. Nor can it be said with exactness that Section 215 is a general provision, as far as the County of Alameda is concerned. It is as specially directed to that county as is subdivision seven of Section 160. It deals with the matter of the compensation of the Assessor of Alameda county as well as does the prior section, as it specifically provides that in the class of counties to which Alameda belongs, the assessor shall receive no compensation for collection of taxes on personal property, or for the making of the military roll.

"But conceding, however, that section 215 is general, notwithstanding it refers to and applies specifically to Alameda county as a county of the third class, still the general rule stated in Bateman vs. Colgan, supra, cannot apply, because that rule has application only where the special and general provisions are not radically inconsistent. Here there can be no doubt of such inconsistency in the sections. A comparison of both discloses that by the earlier section—160—the Assessor of Alameda county is prohibited from receiving any compensation for the collection of personal property taxes, for making the military roll, or for the collection of poll taxes. By the subsequent section that officer is still prohibited from receiving compensation for the collection of personal property taxes and for the making of the military roll, but is expressly authorized to receive and 'retain for his own use' fifteen per cent of the poll tax collections contemplated by section 3862 of the Political Code. The one section prohibits him from even receiving compensation by way of commission in the collection of poll taxes; the other section provides that he may not only receive but retain it for his own benefit. It would be difficult to suggest a more clear and direct inconsistency and repugnancy between distinct provisions of an act purporting to deal with the same subject.

"Under this condition of conflicting legislation the rules of interpretation and construction are clear. In Black on Interpretation of Laws, page 118, it is said: 'There is no rule of law which prohibits the repeal of a special act by a general one. Nor is there any principle forbidding such repeal without the use of express words declarative of the legislative intent to repeal the earlier statute. The question is always one of intention, and the purpose to abrogate the particular enactment by a later general enactment is sufficiently manifested when the provisions of both cannot stand together, and it is a cardinal doctrine in the construction of statutes that, if possible, full effect shall be given to all their parts.' (State vs. Williamson, 44 N. J. L. 165).

"And when upon a consideration of different sections or parts of a statute it is apparent that an irreconcilable conflict exists between them, the controlling rule of construction is that the latest legislative expression upon a given subject must govern; that where inconsistent provisions are found in an act, that provision which is latest in position in the act is deemed to express the last final legislative intent and prevails over prior repugnant provisions, though all are found in the same act and are intended to take effect at the same time.

POSITION MUST PREVAIL.

"The rule is thus stated in People vs. Dobbins, 73 Cal. 259: 'It is an old and well settled rule that when two laws upon the same subject, passed at different times, are inconsistent with each other, the one last passed must prevail. So it has always been the rule that when different provisions of a statute, all passed at the same time, could not be reconciled, the one that came last in point of position must prevail. And this was upon the theory that effect should always be given to the latest rather than to an earlier expression of the legislative will, the presumption being that the latter part of the statute was last considered.' This rule is further supported by Billon vs. Bicknell, 116 Cal. 111; Davis vs. Whidden, 117 Cal. 618; Sutherland Stat. Const. section 160; Sedgwick on Stat. Const. Law, 415; 26 Am. and Eng. Ency. of Law (2d Ed., p. 619).

"Applying these rules of construction to the case at bar. As subdivision 7 of section 160 and section 215 are irreconcilably inconsistent upon the subject as to what compensation the Assessor of Alameda county shall receive for the collection of poll taxes, section 215, being the last expression of legislative intent upon the subject, must control. It follows, therefore, that the Assessor of Alameda county was justified by the provisions of the latter section in receiving and retaining to his own use 15 per cent of the State poll tax collected by him, and the judgment denying him this right is, therefore, reversed, with directions to the lower court to enter a judgment for defendant upon the pleadings.

LIVES IN HIS BED

For Three Months This Man Does Nothing Says Wife.

Edward A. Sinclair, who night before last created a disturbance out at his home at 953 Fifty-third street, by firing several shots at his people with his revolver and pursuing his wife with an infant in his arms, was placed on examination for his sanity before Judge T. W. Harris this morning, and Doctors Buteau and Shirk were unable to come to a decision in the matter from the testimony offered, and the case was put over until tomorrow, when the examination will be continued.

According to statements made by his wife, Sinclair, about six months ago, lay in bed for nearly three months and would do nothing. She says his hair grew six inches long and his beard assumed like proportions. He would get up at night time and would only speak in whispers, believing that people outside were listening to him. She says that she thought that this was brought on by the fact of his having lost his position.

When Sinclair himself was examined he was unable to give satisfactory explanation of his conduct of the other night, and said he shot the revolver because he had it. He said he knew it was against the law to do anything of that kind, but he did it just the same. He explained his lying in bed by saying that he did not feel well. He denied that he would sit up all night at this time, but said that he did sit up until 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning.

He finally got a haircut, according to the wife, by her running the shears into his hair and cutting out a large lock, which necessitated his seeking the services of a barber. Many of the things told about him would indicate insanity, but on the other hand, his demeanor at the present time makes a doubt in the minds of the doctors, and they wish to wait another day before giving their decision.

ALAMEDA MAN IS ASSAULTED

ELMO CLEVELAND SEEKS ARREST OF FREDERICK FARRER.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—Frederick Farrer, a young man living at Park and San Jose avenue, is to be arrested on a charge of battery sworn to this morning before Judge Cone by Elmo H. Cleveland, who says that Farrar attacked him last evening at the corner of Benton street and Santa Clara avenue, and beat him in a terrible manner, the assault being entirely unprovoked, according to the prosecuting witness.

Cleveland says that he was waiting for his wife at the corner, when Farrer came along. He notice the man, with whom he is casually acquainted, pulling off his cuffs. When Farrer reached him he called him a vile name and knocked him down. Cleveland was rendered partially unconscious, and later, while in a dazed condition, he found himself being picked up by Farrner, the man who had assaulted him. Farrer said that he was sorry that he had struck him, but that he had to do it as Cleveland had at one time insulted him.

Cleveland said that no such circumstance ever occurred, and that the only reason he can give for the man's attack upon him last night is that a complaint had been made that some dogs owned by Farrer had drank the milk which was on the doorstep of the Cleveland home.

Farrer is remembered by the police as the young man who made a feint of committing suicide a year ago, when there was a sensational account owing to some jealousy in which a young lady was concerned.

RELIEF SOCIETY CALLS FOR AID

The Ladies' Relief Society of Oakland, which has been providing for the thirty-two ladies in the Old Ladies' Home, sevent-eight children in the Children's Home, and thirteen babies in the De Fremery Cottage, has had a great deal of extra expense this year on account of repairs, costing, $3115.75, and the assessments amounting to $1613.34, and is obliged to call on its friends to aid it in its charitable work. If an entertainment were given a large part of the receipts would be used for expenses. Therefore, the Society suggests that its many friends and benefactors, who have aided so liberally in the past, send their contributions this year in ready money. It is hoped that all will respond liberally.

BEGGAR SENT TO JAIL.

James Hayes, a beggar, who really did have one bad arm, and an unusual amount of insolence, was this morning sent to the city prison for four months on a charge of vagrancy. It was the impudence with which he begged that obtained for Mr. Hayes so stiff a sentence.

WANTS OWNERS ARRESTED

BUILDING INSPECTOR SUBMITS PLAN TO BOARD OF WORKS.

Building Inspector J. F. Towle this morning recommended to the Board of Public Works, at its meeting, that all owners and builders be arrested who proceeded to erect any portion of a building without first having obtained a permit. Mr. Towle states that the Master Builders' Association has adopted rules requiring owners to furnish the building permit. This rule results in the building permit not being obtained. This requires the building inspector to hunt up both the owner and the job.

To remedy this state of affairs, it is suggested that the police be instructed to make arrests in every instance where work has been started before the permit is granted.

The matter was referred to the Chief of Police with power to act.

MINOR MATTERS.

The petition of the Board of Education for electric lights in the basement of the High School was referred to the City Attorney for a report as to procedure.

W. E. Ellis was granted permission to remove a house from Fifth and Campbell streets to Fruitvale.

The application of the White Star Laundry Company for permission to maintain a boiler was referred to the Chief Engineer of the fire department for a report.

The board ordered a light, hydrant and alarm box placed on Walsworth avenue between Prospect and Stanley streets. Electric lights were also ordered placed at the corner of Grove and Fifty-first streets and on Magnolia street between Tenth and Twelfth streets.

The petition of R. A. Whittaker for a granite curbing at Moss avenue and Oakland avenue was denied.

The petition of C. L. Wakefield for permission to cut down a tree was referred to the head gardener.

The petition of Mrs. Sarah Clancy, asking that surface water on Fifteenth avenue near East Sixteenth street be removed, was referred to the Superintendent of Streets, with power to act.

POLICE BOARD.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners this morning accepted the resignation of City Electrician Babcock, to take effect on December 1. A resolution re-appointing him on the same date was adopted. The reason of the acceptance of the resignation and reappointment was that Babcock secured a raise of salary from $150 to $175 a month.

FRANCE ACCEDES.

PARIS, November 22.—Inquiry at the Foreign Office today brought out the statement that the report that France accedes to President Castro's request to indicate what portions of the Venezuelan note to Mr. Taigny, the French Charge d'Affaires, are offensive is incorrect. The officials say the President has heretofore been completely informed regarding the offensive features of the note and therefore the report that France will give further explanations is characterized as "a bluff intended to delay and confuse the situation."

INNOCENT APPEARING LAD ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

PERCY PEMBROKE, ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Grief-Stricken Parents Seated in Court at Side of Boy Accused of Murder.

With his family about him, Percy Pembroke was put on trial for his life this morning for complicity in the murder of Thomas Cook, out at Fruitvale, on the night of July 22 last. He is the second of the three youths charged with the crime to stand trial. Attorney Lin Church, who is defending him, and District Attorney Allen are now engaged in selecting a jury to listen to the evidence in the case.

Judge W. H. Waste is presiding over the trial, and as soon as the proceedings were begun Attorney Church made a formal objection to the jury panel on the ground that the law authorizing the Superior Judges to select the names for jury work was unconstitutional and invalid, and that this was properly the work of the Board of Supervisors. His objection was overruled by Judge Waste, and Attorney Church stated that he had only made the objection out of extreme caution, in case that he might have occasion to take an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Seated about young Pembroke are his father and mother, his brother and sister-in-law, and a boy rarely ever went to trial for such a crime with the care and devotion that has been expended upon him.

Neatly dressed, with a new suit of clothes, and patent leather shoes, he makes the appearance of one from whom one would hardly expect complicity in such a crime. Hardly yet seventeen years of age, he has not lost the plumpness of his baby face. The commission of the crime, if it is proved that he did it, it is the hope of his family it was without realizing the responsibility of such an act.

It is expected that the present trial will be, to a large extent, a repetition of the trial of George Blaker. John Schneider, the third of the trio, will probably take the stand and tell the same story that he told on the stand in the trial of Blaker, in which he testified that when Cook was attacked he ran, and that he saw Blaker and Pembroke both swing their bludgeons, and heard Cook scream.

In a confession made by Pembroke and Schneider to Sheriff Frank Barnet, however, the two youths contradict each other, each claiming that he was the one who ran, and it will probably be a question of veracity between the two of them as to which one it was who stayed with Blaker and saw the crime finished.

Pembroke's story was that he did not want to go with the other two, but that they kept close to him, and that when they got close to Cook Schneider grabbed the piece of pipe out of his hands and struck Cook, and that he ran away. Schneider, in his story told on the stand in the Blaker case, said that he ran away because he got afraid and that it was Blaker and Pembroke who did the work, and took the money out of Cook's pockets.

PLAY IS IMMORAL.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22. — Montreal women who arranged to take part in the Queen Alexandra charity matinee today announced their withdrawal of patronage unless Olga Nethersole, who arranged the benefit, took from her program an act from "The Labyrinth."

Miss Nethersole took off the piece in an announcement, in which she said:

"Miss Nethersole, regretting the opinion held by the patronesses, is loath to allow anything to interfere with the success of Wednesday's performance, and has therefore consented to substitute some recitations for the second act of the "The Labyrinth."

The Montreal newspapers condemn Nethersole's play as immoral.

MILLIONS TO SPEND

Equitable Had $70,000,000 Set Aside For a Contingency.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Gage E. Tarbell, second vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, who was on the witness stand when the insurance investigating committee adjoruned last night, resumed his testimony regarding the agency system of the Equitable.

He submitted a specimen of the contracts made with agents which was offered in evidence, as also were letters which accompany contracts explanatory of the allowance of commission.

Mr. Tarbell said the system of "loading" premiums was originated to insure the ability of companies to meet any contingency of claim or expense. He said that premiums are placed higher than is necessary for safety and the excess "loading" is returned to policy holders in dividends.

Of $80,000,000 surplus of the Equitable Society at the end of 1894, Mr. Tarbell said about $70,000,000 is set aside for deferred dividends, but the company does not recognize any right of the policy holder in the $70,000,000 until the policy has matured or reached the point at which it has earned its dividends. This $70,000,000 could be used to defray any contingency that may arise.

Mr. Tarbell said that an extra commission of ten per cent was allowed general agents on business written between July 15 and December 31, 1905. This was done, he said, to enable the agents to make a compensation on which they could live because of the difficulty of getting people to insure.

WHY MAN WAS WHIPPED

WOMAN GIVES REASONS FOR BROTHER BEATING HER HUSBAND.

Police Judge Smith continued sentence until tomorrow in the case of Ben Walters, a sea captain accused of battery on his brother-in-law, H. Sparber, a second hand dealer. Mrs. Rose Sparber, wife of the complaining witness, testified that the reason that her brother thrashed her husband was that she had been subjected to the indignity of being choked. She also slad that her husband referred in the most brutal and callous manner to her wifely virtue and that these references were also a part of the reason for her brother trouncing her husband.

Sparber says that he is not the one guilty of mischief, making out that his wife and brother-in-law were the ones who sought to make trouble.

Judge Smith will decide on the severity of the punishment tomorrow morning.

MUCH PROFIT IN TURKEY RAISING

Turkey time is coming, and the lesson of the last two years in San Francisco and Los Angeles has been learned by men hundreds of miles away from California. A press dispatch from Waco Texas, announces that dressed turkeys by carloads are being shipped from there to California.

Turkeys, last year, sold in San Francisco as high as 35 cents a pound, and the average price for the year through was from 16 to 30 cents a pound. The Texas turkeys are bought in that State for 10 cents a pound, although the California demand has increased the price to 12 cents.

Turkey raising as an industry is the most profitable of all connected with the poultry business. The California Promotion Committee, in investigating the subject, has found that California is peculiarly adaptable for the raising of turkeys, and thinks there is no reason why turkey farms as large and important as those in Kentucky should not be established in California.

The climate of California is especially suited for young turkeys, and after the fowls pass the early age there is nothing to fear from disease of any kind. The range, which turkeys require for the best development, is ample and the care is the simplest, so there is no reason why California should not supply her own markets.

O'BRIEN FAVORS SULLIVAN

"PHILADELPHIA" LIKES THE CHANCES OF THE BOLD ONE.

Actual training for Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Jimmy Gardner is now at an end, and the two boxers, who meet at Woodward's Friday night, are in excellent trim for the battle. For more than three weeks the rival bruisers have trained at their places of labor, Sullivan at San Rafael, and Gardner at Alameda, and both are now pronounced by the club's physician, Dr. Apple, to be fit to go twenty rounds at a slashing gate.

Not since Britt and Nelson did their finish stunt down in the meadows at Colma has there been such keen interest in a boxing contest as is shown in Friday night's battle, and it is believed that Morris Levy will house one of the biggest crowds that has assembled in Woodward's in many months. Many of those who fancy Gardner's chances most are men who are not considered authority on boxing matters, while many who pick Sullivan to bring home the grapes are fellows who are known to have a wide knowledge of pugilistic affairs.

"Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, who is perhaps one of the most conservative of fighters in expressing an opinion as to the probable outcome of a boxing match, says frankly and straight from the shoulder that Sullivan has an excellent chance to win on account of his vast cleverness and wonderful ring generalship.

O'Brien thinks if there is a knockout it will most likely be scored by Gardner, but he does not believe such a thing will happen during the twenty rounds alloted in which to battle. Jack thinks this will be the very best contest ever seen in a San Francisco ring, and from the intense feeling between the Gardners and the Sullivans he thinks the contest will be all the more bitterly fought.

While Gardner is now a 10 to 8 favorite in the betting, there is an abundance of Sullivan money on hand. Betting has been light so far, but it is expected that many thousands of dollars will be thrown into the pool boxes before the men enter the ring. Several large bets of $400 and $500 have been reported to have been made in San Francisco last night, and one enthusiastic Sullivan admirer has said he would place as much at $2000 on the Twin. It is harldy likely that such a bet will be made, but if that amount should creep into the pool rooms it is very likely to force the price down on Gardner until Sullivan is a top-heavy favorite, but until that time it is safe to say that Gardner will remain a slight favorite in the betting.

Seats for the contest were placed on sale this morning at Harry Corbett's place, and it has been a long time since tickets were sold so rapidly. It is estimated that the sale today will amount to close to $2000, which does not include the great number of orders that have been received prior to the opening of the sale.

Jack Welch, who is to referee the bout, expects a great battle.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC PAYS ITS TAXES

The Southern Pacific Company this morning paid the first installment of its taxes to the city. They amounted to $12,172.80. The company made an eror of one cent in its check. This amount was mailed to the auditor by City Treasurer Bates.

THE ARGONAUT FOR NOVEMBER 27.

Another installment of Jerome Hart's "In Arcadia" series of quaintly humorous skits appears in the Argonaut for Nvember 27. How Heriod was made saddle-wise and other incidents in the life history of a fractious colt form the basis of this amusing sketch. The only authentic account that has yet been printed in the American press regarding the relations of Mrs. Fitzherbert and George the Fourth also appears in the Argonaut for November 27. All the known facts in the case are detailed, and an opinion is expressed regarding the claims of the various persons who assert that they are descended from a son born of the union of the king and his morganatic wife. The Argonaut tells the tale without frills. Other notable features of this week's Argonaut will be a "Flaneur" letter from New York on "Prince Louis and the Horse Show." The departments are filled with interesting matter, particularly Josephine Hart Phelps' criticism of Richard Mansfield in Schiller's "Don Carlos" and "The Shogun" at the Columbia Theater.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

The charge of misdemeanor embezzlement, preferred against James T. Stovall by the White Sewing Machine Company, was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney this morning, in the Police Court.

BURTON'S HEARING

Good Progress is Being Made at Trial of Senator.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—Rapid progress has been made in the trial of United States Senator Burton of Kansas, charged with rendering services as an attorney before the Postoffice Department in violation of the Federal statutes, and it appears probable that the case will go to the jury not later than Saturday.

The government has taken several short cuts in its introduction of evidence, and Judge Vandeventer has saved time by his sharp, decisive rulings, and his admonitions to counsel to confine themselves strictly to the matter at issue.

When court opened today Judge Vandeventer announced that he overruled the objection made by the government late yesterday afternoon to certain questions asked by counsel for the defense in the cross-examination of witness Thomas B. Harlan, former attorney for the Rialto Grain and Securities Company, who was placed on the stand by the presecution.

At Senator Burton's former trial Harlan was a witness for the defense. Attorney Lehmann took up a letter written by Harlan to Senator Burton, accepting the latter's proposition to act as an attorney for the Rialto Company for a salary of $500 a month, which was intrdouced yesterday, and questioned the witness regarding the events leading up to the writing of the letter. This was the point on which the government based its objections.

After Mr. Harlan had been cross-examined and then taken by the district attorney for a re-direct examination the government placed Jos. P. Carr, formerly a clerk employed by the Rialto Company, and William D. Mahaney, formerly vice-president of the same company, upon the stand.

Mr. Harlan described his first meeting with Senator Burton on November 17, 1902. He said he described to Senator Burton the legal difficulties in which the Rialto Company was involved by the animosity of a former business partner of Major Dennis, president of the Rialto Company, who, the witness declared, had caused the institution of fifteen civil suits, twenty libel suits and the probability of about two hundred other cases, and that it was probable that indictments might be returned by the Federal Grand Jury against Major Dennis.

In recalling his conversation with Senator Burton, Mr. Harlan said:

"He said (meaning Senator Burton), 'now you must remember that I am a United States Senator. I am not going to do anything inconsistent with my duty as a United States Senator.'

"I assured Senator Burton that I did not want him under any circumstances to do anything inconsistent with his position as a United States Senator and I was just as positive in my statement as he was in his declaration, so far as that matter was concerned.

"Up to this time nothing had been said about compensation. He had not even indicated, to the best of my recollection, whether he would or would not become counsel.

"I brought up the question of compensation. I explained to Senator Burton that I did not feel that I had any authority to close any contract but I would take the whole thing into consideration and report it back to the company when I returned to St. Louis. Senator Burton said he would serve as counsel for $500 a month. That struck me as being reasonable, so much so that I did not dissent to it, all things considered. And he said: 'Of course, I don't want to get cut off at the end of one month. I don't want to go down there to St. Louis and try, or help you in the trial of that case, should there be an indictment, and have my salary cut off at the end of that month.'

"So one or the other of us, I don't remember which one of us, suggested five months. At any rate, whoever suggested it, that was acceptable.

TWELFTH AND HARRISON

MISS EDITH DOWNING IS THE BRIDE OF DR. BENJAMIN J. EDGER

PRETTY WEDDING AT CHURCH

Bride is Well Known in Society in Alameda County.

MRS BENJAMIN J EDGER

A marriage to the religious aspect of which was also added the glamour of a military ceremony and in which both the flag and cross played equal part, was that at Grace Episcopal Church at the corner of California and Stockton streets in San Francisco last nigh in which Miss Edith Downing became the bride of Dr Benjamin J Edger The military function was suggested out of compliment to the groom who is attached to the medical department of the United States Army

The ceremony was of considerable interest to the people in this city and county because the bride is a grand daughter of Socrates Huff the well known capitalist of San Leandro

The attendance at the ceremony was composed of near relatives and friends of the contracting parties who had been bidden to the church through invitation

The reserved part of the auditorium was indicated on the main aisle by a large cluster of golden chrysanthemums fixed on pews at either side of the aisle

The decorations were otherwise confined to the chancel They consisted in the main of white chrysanthemums ferns and palms the last mentioned being large and wavy The palms were arranged on either side of the chancel opening leaving a space large enough only for the bridal party to enter the sacred precincts

The interleaving and tracery acted as a screen through which some of the spectators on the side aisles obtained a view of the ceremony which suggested nuptials in a sylvan inclosure

On the altar were massed several large clusters of white chrysanthemums the favorite flower of the bride These contrasted richly with the mingled gold and marble background of the reredo against which [illegible] were trained in a very artistic manner The richness and grateful character of the contrast was enhanced by several hundred electric and waxen lights which irradiated the sanctuary These lights were focused in candelabra of seven branches each the sconces of several of which contained flaming candles

The main feature of the decorations however was an immense flag of standard size of the nation which was hung at the chancel opening This was pendant from the gothic roof of the church and was wide enough to have closed the entire arch and lengthy enough to have fallen in rolls upon the floor But tender hands had trained its wavy folds to one side and looped them gracefully to the column supporting the sanctuary arch on the epistle side of the altar

The invited guests assembled early and while waiting for the time appointed for the arrival of the bridal party were entertained by voluntaries on the organ by W H Holt who seemed to exercise a skillful mastery over the sweet toned instrument Among the selections were favorites from Mignon Ich Liebe Dich' by Grieg 'Liebes Lied from the 'Valkyrie 'The Evening Star from Tannhauser and the Bridal March by George Elbe

The arrival of the bridal party in the church was heralded by the appearance of her family and grandparents in the auditorium Their entre was recognized by the Star Spangled Banner on the organ and they were escorted to the seats reserved for them by the uniformed brother corps officers of the groom In this party were Mr and Mrs Socrates Huff of San Leandro Mrs Downing his daughter the mother of the bride Misses Jennie Callie and Mamie Huff daughters of Socrates Huff two lads Phillip Finnell and Elliott Downing the latter a brother of the bride Mrs Busa Firnell a sister of the bride's mother and a daughter of Mr Huff

After these had been seated the bridal party entered the church from below the organist playing the bridal chorus from 'Lohengrin The bride leaned on the arm of her father and walked with maidenly modesty up the aisle to the chancel She was gowned in an exquisite costume of white satin made princess, and with a long court train It was elaborately trimmed with rare old Maline lace and embroidered in pearls Her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley and her long tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms The maid of honor Miss Bonnie Downing the sister of the bride was gowned in Nile green satin with a deep bertha of Chantilly lace She carried white chrysanthemums The four bridesmaids Miss Kathleen Finnegan Miss Ruth Kales Miss Helene Robson and Miss Lucretia Burnham wore gowns of white mousseline de soie trimmed with bands of white satin. Their bouquets were showers of gypsophella and maidenhair ferns and they wore tiny wreaths of the same in their hair Dr Albert Truby U S A was the best man and the ushers were Dr Louis Brechemin Jr U S A Dr George F Juenemann U S A Dr Edmund D Shortridge U S A and Major William Stephenson U S A

The ushers were in full military uniform and thereby added greatly to the effectiveness of the scene

The ceremony was performed by Rev Dr Evans rector of the church the bride being given away by her father O P Downing

At the close of the ceremony, the party left the church to the measured movement of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March

The marriage was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Green street, about fifty relatives and friends being present The decorations were artistic, the color scheme of green and white being combined here and white chrysanthemums were used in great profusion In the dining room where the bride's table was placed ropes of smilax were hung in graceful garlands from the chandelier to the corners of the room suspended from which were wedding bells of white tulle

Congratulations were extended to bride and groom Dr and Mrs Edger are on a bridal tour their destination being unknown At its close they will be guests for a time of the bride's parents Dr Edger has heretofore been stationed at Fort Brown Texas He will probably be assigned to duty somewhat nearer home after the expiration of his leave of absence

FALL COLDS

Prominent Society Woman Advises Oakland People Best Means to Cure Them

To the People of Oakland Knowing how prevalent hard colds are at this season of the year and into what danger they often lead I want to tell you of my experience as it may be the means of saving your life as I believe mine was saved by Vinol the best cod liver oil preparation in the world

SALLIE VAN WICK.

On my way home from a reception thinly clad I contracted a severe cold and cough I tried different cod liver oil preparations and other remedies they only upset my stomach and gave me no relief I finally sent for my physician He prescribed for me but I constantly grew worse and as a last resort he advised me to try Vinol I found it was delicious to take and did not upset my stomach like the other cod liver oil preparations It soon effected a complete cure built up my general health and made me feel stronger and better than I have for years

My druggist from whom I purchased Vinol tells me that it has taken the place of old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because it contains in a highly concentrated form all the medicinal curative and body building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers but without a drop of the system-clogging oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work and if Vinol does for Oakland people what it did for me it will be worth $100 a bottle to them Sallie Van Wick, Vice-President of the Anderson Driving Club Atlanta Georgia The Owl Drug Company say they have never sold a remedy in their store equal to Vinol for chronic coughs colds and bronchial troubles or to build up a run down system and they will return the money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction

HIS WIFE RUNS AWAY WITH ANOTHER MAN

H. L. M'Kinney Knows the Betrayer of His Home But Will Not do Any Shooting.

H L McKinney who is engaged in business at 452 Ninth street, is of the opinion that his wife has eloped with another man Mr McKinney was married eleven years ago There are two children in the family, who are now left to the care of the father Mr McKinney is now seeking his wife but thus far has been unable to secure any clew that would lead to the discovery of her whereabouts The story of his troubles is best related by himself

I first missed my wife said Mr McKinney last night when I returned to my home When I arrived home I found that my children had been put to bed by a neighbor I then asked what had become of my wife The neighbor told me she had received a letter that afternoon about 1 o clock which was delivered by a man on a wheel In this letter was a note and fifty cents She turned to her neighbor Mrs McCann and said Mr Charlie Butler of San Francisco who is a friend of the family has sent me a note stating that he would take myself and mother Mrs Platton to the theater in San Francisco this afternoon She said she would be back about 7 o clock but she did not return When they told me this I went to see her mother who lives on Seventh near Market street Oakland and ascertained from her that Mr Butler had had no communication with Mrs McKinney or her mother Mr Butler or Mrs Platton had seen nothing of Mrs McKinney that afternoon. She had simply told the neighbor a falsehood in reference to Mr Butler

The man who has wrecked my home is John Pharr I had forbidden him calling at my house I told him if he came near the house again I would shoo him My wife went away once before with this man and stayed with him for two weeks in San Francisco but I forgave her and took her back on account of the children I want to raise my children properly This man has been seen about the house for two weeks and there is no doubt but that she has gone off with him

It is my intention to ascertain where my wife is and then I will tell her that she is free to secure a divorce from me as I will not take her back again She has run away three times now and on the last two occasions with the same party I have taken her back heretofore for the reason that I did not desire to have the disgrace placed upon my children by her actions I see now there is nothing left for me to do but to allow her to get a divorce Oh no I am not going to do any shooting She is not worth it"

MONEY FOR AGED WOMAN

COMPROMISE VERDICT GAINS HER $1350 FOR SON'S DEATH.

The damage suit brought by Josephine E Anderson against the E J Dodge Company, who own the schooner Northland, for $30 000 damages was satisfactorily compromised this morning by the payment of $1350 for the death of Carl E Anderson a hand employed on the schooner who met his death at Long Wharf while helping unload the vessel A big bolt holding a sling of lumber broke and let the lumber down on Anderson whose skull was crushed

The compromise was effected by Attorney George E De Golia, representing E J Dodge & Co Attorney C H Wilson representing a San Francisco Casualty and Fidelity Company with whom E J Dodge & Co were insured against just such accidents and Attorney Stanley Moore representing the plaintiff in the case

In speaking about the matter afterwards Attorney Moore said The action was brought by Josephine E Anderson a sister of the man who was killed and while we asked for $30 000 damages this was a mere formality The only person Anderson had dependent upon him was an aged mother in Norway who is sixty five years of age He was in the habit of sending her about $250 a year which was sufficient for her needs there so that all I could expect to recover was the amount she was damaged According to life insurance statistics she has only about seven more years to live and multiplying $250 by seven, $1500 was about all that we could expect As it is I have $1350 for the old lady which will keep her as long as she lives and is a little compensation for the loss of her son

Attorney De Golia said While we consented to a compromise we do not think we were in any way to blame for the accident But the bolt broke and the man was killed and the jury is pretty apt to say that we could afford to pay and give a verdict against us The people that I represent however will lose nothing as they were insured against such an accident up to $5000 and the loss will fall on the insurance people

PRETTY WEDDING AT CHURCH

Bride is Well Known in Society in Alameda County.

MRS. BENJAMIN J. EDGER.

A marriage to the religious aspect of which was also added the glamour of a military ceremony and in which both the flag and cross played equal part, was that at Grace Episcopal Church at the corner of California and Stockton streets, in San Francisco, last night in which Miss Edith Downing became the bride of Dr. Benjamin J. Edger. The military function was suggested out of compliment to the groom, who is attached to the medical department of the United States Army.

The ceremony was of considerable interest to the people in this city and county because the bride is a granddaughter of Socrates Huff, the well known capitalist of San Leandro.

The attendance at the ceremony was composed of near relatives and friends of the contracting parties who had been bidden to the church through invitation.

The reserved part of the auditorium was indicated on the main aisle by a large cluster of golden chrysanthemums fixed on pews at either side of the aisle.

The decorations were otherwise confined to the chancel. They consisted, in the main, of white chrysanthemums, ferns and palms, the last mentioned being large and wavy. The palms were arranged on either side of the chancel opening leaving a space large enough only for the bridal party to enter the sacred precincts.

The interleaving and tracery acted as a screen through which some of the spectators on the side aisles obtained a view of the ceremony which suggested nuptials in a sylvan inclosure.

On the altar were massed several large clusters of white chrysanthemums, the favorite flower of the bride. These contrasted richly with the mingled gold and marble background of the reredos, against which they were trained in a very artistic manner. The richness and grateful character of the contrast was enhanced by several hundred electric and waxen lights which irradiated the sanctuary. These lights were focused in candelabra of seven branches each, the sconces of several of which contained flaming candles.

The main feature of the decorations, however, was an immense flag of standard size, of the nation, which was hung at the chancel opening. This was pendant from the gothic roof of the church and was wide enough to have closed the entire arch and lengthy enough to have fallen in rolls upon the floor. But tender hands had trained its wavy folds to one side and looped them gracefully to the column supporting the sanctuary arch on the epistle side of the altar.

The invited guests assembled early and, while waiting for the time appointed for the arrival of the bridal party, were entertained by voluntaries on the organ by W. H. Holt, who seemed to exercise a skillful mastery over the sweet-toned instrument. Among the selections were favorites from "Mignon," "Ich Liebe Dich," by Grieg; "Liebes-Lied," from the "Valkyrie;" "The Evening Star," from Tannhauser," and the "Bridal March," by George Elbe.

The arrival of the bridal party in the church was heralded by the appearance of her family and grandparents, in the auditorium. Their entre was recognized by the "Star Spangled Banner" on the organ and they were escorted to the seats reserved for them by the uniformed brother corps officers of the groom. In this party were Mr. and Mrs. Socrates Huff of San Leandro, Mrs. Downing, his daughter, the mother of the bride, Misses Jennie, Callie and Mamie Huff, daughters of Socrates Huff, two lads, Phillip Finnell and Elliott Downing, the latter a brother of the bride; Mrs. Bush Finnell, a sister of the bride's mother, and a daughter of Mr. Huff.

After these had been seated, the bridal party entered the church from below, the organist playing the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." The bride leaned on the arm of her father and walked with maidenly modesty up the aisle to the chancel. She was gowned in an exquisite costume of white satin, made princess, and with a long court train. It was elaborately trimmed with rare old Maline lace and embroidered in pearls. Her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley, and her long tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Bonnie Downing, the sister of the bride, was gowned in Nile green satin, with a deep bertha of Chantilly lace. She carried white chrysanthemums. The four bridesmaids, Miss Kathleen Finnegan, Miss Ruth Kales, Miss Helene Robson and Miss Lucretia Burnham, wore gowns of white mousseline de soie, trimmed with bands of white satin. Their bouquets were showers of gypsophelia and maidenhair-ferns, and they wore tiny wreaths of the same in their hair. Dr. Albert Truby, U. S. A., was the best man, and the ushers were Dr. Louis Brechemin Jr., U. S. A., Dr. George F. Jueneman, U. S. A., Dr. Edmund D. Shortridge, U. S. A., and Major William Stephenson, U. S. A.

The ushers were in full military uniform and thereby added greatly to the effectiveness of the scene.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Evans, rector of the church, the bride being given away by her father, O. P. Downing.

At the close of the ceremony, the party left the church to the measured movement of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The marriage was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Green street, about fifty relatives and friends being present. The decorations were artistic, the color scheme of green and white being continued here, and white chrysanthemums were used in great profusion. In the dining-room, where the bride's table was placed, ropes of smilax were hung in graceful garlands from the chandelier to the corners of the room, suspended from which were wedding bells of white tulle.

Congratulations were extended to bride and groom. Dr. and Mrs. Edger are on a bridal tour, their destination being unknown. At its close, they will be guests for a time, of the bride's parents. Dr. Edger has heretofore been stationed at Fort Brown, Texas. He will probably be assigned to duty somewhat nearer home after the expiration of his leave of absence.

FALL COLDS

Prominent Society Woman Advises Oakland People Best Means to Cure Them.

"To the People of Oakland: Knowing how prevalent hard colds are at this season of the year, and into what danger they often lead, I want to tell you of my experience, as it may be the means of saving your life, as I believe mine was saved by Vinol, the best cod liver oil preparation in the world.

SALLIE VAN WICK.

On my way home from a reception, thinly clad, I contracted a severe cold and cough. I tried different cod liver oil preparations and other remedies; they only upset my stomach and gave me no relief. I finally sent for my physician. He prescribed for me, but I constantly grew worse, and as a last resort he advised me to try Vinol. I found it was delicious to take, and did not upset my stomach like the other cod liver oil preparations. It soon effected a complete cure, built up my general health, and made me feel stronger and better than I have for years.

My druggist, from whom I purchased Vinol, tells me that it has taken the place of old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, because it contains in a highly concentrated form all the medicinal, curative and body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of the system-clogging oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work, and if Vinol does for Oakland people what it did for me it will be worth $100 a bottle to them." Sallie Van Wick, Vice-President of the Anderson Driving Club, Atlanta, Georgia. The Owl Drug Company, say they have never sold a remedy in their store equal to Vinol for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles, or to build up a run down system, and they will return the money in [illegible] case where it fails to give [illegible]tion.

HIS WIFE RUNS AWAY WITH ANOTHER MAN

H. L. M'Kinney Knows the Betrayer of His Home But Will Not do Any Shooting.

H. L. McKinney, who is engaged in business at 462 Ninth street, is of the opinion that his wife has eloped with another man. Mr. McKinney was married eleven years ago. There are two children in the family, who are now left to the care of the father. Mr. McKinney is now seeking his wife, but thus far has been unable to secure any clew that would lead to the discovery of her whereabouts. The story of his troubles is best related by himself:

"I first missed my wife," said Mr. McKinney, "last night when I returned to my home. When I arrived home I found that my children had been put to bed by a neighbor. I then asked what had become of my wife. The neighbor told me she had received a letter that afternoon about 1 o'clock, which was delivered by a man on a wheel. In this letter was a note and fifty cents. She turned to her neighbor, Mrs. McCann, and said, 'Mr. Charlie Butler of San Francisco, who is a friend of the family, has sent me a note stating that he would take myself and mother, Mrs. Platton, to the theater in San Francisco this afternoon.' She said she would be back about 7 o'clock, but she did not return. When they told me this I went to see her mother, who lives on Seventh, near Market street, Oakland, and ascertained from her that Mr. Butler had had no communication with Mrs. McKinney or her mother. Mr. Butler or Mrs. Platton had seen nothing of Mrs. McKinney that afternoon. She had simply told the neighbor a falsehood in reference to Mr. Butler.

"The man who has wrecked my home is John Pharr. I had forbidden him calling at my house. I told him if he came near the house again I would shoot him. My wife went away once before with this man and stayed with him for two weeks in San Francisco, but I forgave her and took her back on account of the children. I want to raise my children properly. This man has been seen about the house for two weeks, and there is no doubt but that she has gone off with him.

"It is my intention to ascertain where my wife is, and then I will tell her that she is free to secure a divorce from me as I will not take her back again. She has run away three times now, and on the last two occasions with the same party. I have taken her back heretofore for the reason that I did not desire to have the disgrace placed upon my children by her actions. I see now there is nothing left for me to do, but to allow her to get a divorce. Oh, no; I am not going to do any shooting. She is not worth it."

MONEY FOR AGED WOMAN

COMPROMISE VERDICT GAINS HER $1350 FOR SON'S DEATH.

The damage suit brought by Josephine E. Anderson against the E. J. Dodge Company, who own the schooner "Northland", for $30,000 damages was satisfactorily compromised this morning by the payment of $1350 for the death of Carl E. Anderson, a hand employed on the schooner, who met his death at Long Wharf while helping unload the vessel. A big bolt holding a sling of lumber broke and let the lumber down on Anderson, whose skull was crushed.

The compromise was effected by Attorney George E. De Golia, representing E. J. Dodge & Co., Attorney C. H. Wilson, representing a San Francisco Casualty and Fidelity Company, with whom E. J. Dodge & Co., were insured against just such accidents, and Attorney Stanley Moore, representing the plaintiff in the case.

In speaking about the matter afterwards, Attorney Moore said: "The action was brought by Josephine E. Anderson, a sister of the man who was killed, and while we asked for $30,000 damages, this was a mere formality. The only person Anderson had dependent upon him was an aged mother in Norway, who is sixty-five years of age. He was in the habit of sending her about $350 a year which was sufficient for her needs there, so that all I could expect to recover was the amount she was damaged. According to life insurance statistics she has only about seven more years to live and multiplying $250 by seven, $1500 was about all that we could expect. As it is I have $1350 for the old lady which will keep her as long as she lives, and is a little compensation for the loss of her son."

Attorney De Golia said "While we consented to a compromise, we do not think we were in any way to blame for the accident. But the bolt broke and the man was killed and the jury is pretty apt to say that we could afford to pay and give a verdict against us. The people that I represent, however, will lose nothing as they were insured against such an accident up to $5000 and the loss will fall on the insurance people."

AFFAIRS FOR THE SCHOOL TEACHERS

The following circular has been issued:

"To the principals and teachers of the Oakland School Department:—Walter J. Kenyon of the State Normal School of San Francisco, will talk to the teachers of the Fourth, Fifth and Six Grades, and to the principals of the Grammar Schools on Thursday, November 23, at the Common School Assembly Hall at 3:20 p. m., on the geography work of these grades. Principals will close the class rooms of these grade teachers so as to afford ample time for them to be present at the time of opening.

"The meeting of the First and Second Grade teachers called for this afternoon is hereby postponed until further notice.

"The next teachers' excursion to points around San Francisco Bay and vicinity, will be on Saturday, December 2, when a trip is to be made to Halfmoon Bay,—weather permitting. The party will leave Fifth and Market streets, San Francisco, at 8 a. m., taking the electric car for San Mateo. From there they will go by carriage to Halfmoon Bay (fifteen miles), arriving at 11 a. m.

"It will be necessary to limit the party to fifty. Should a greater number desire to go, the party will be made up of the first fifty applying. Round trip from San Francisco, including luncheon at the hotel at Halfmoon Bay, $1.25. The principals will please send to this office not later than Friday of this week, the names of such teachers as may wish to join the party. Very respectfuly yours,

"J. W. McCLYMONDS,
"City Superintendent Schools."

I. A. BERETTA RETURNS FROM EASTERN TRIP.

GIVEN FREEDOM; NO TRIAL

COURT DON'T BELIEVE IN LIFE SENTENCE ON INSTALLMENT PLAN.

O. A. Daily, who has spent the last fifty-two days in jail awaiting trial on a charge of disturbing the peace, using vulgar language and of obtaining good under false pretenses, was this morning given a surprise by Police Judge Smith, who suspended judgment on two of the cases. The third was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

O. E. Allen, who had sworn to the charges, thought that justice had been appeased and was willing that the charges should be disposed of.

The wife of the defendant remained in constant attendance during the fifty-two days her husband was in durance vile.

In suspending judgment Judge Smith remarked, there was no good reason why Daly should serve a life sentence on the installment plan, and bade the discharged man to go his way and sin no more.

SUB-COMMITTEE TO HOLD MEETING

WASHINGTON, November 22.—The sub-committee of three members with General Davis as chairman which was appointed from among the members of the Board of Consulting Engineers of the Isthmian Caal to draw up a rough plan for the report to President Roosevelt, will hold a session today. Tomorrow the full board will meet and discuss some minor questions which have come up since it reached its final conclusion last Saturday. The last meeting of the board will take place Friday and it is expected that that meeting wil have a more or less formal aspect and that General Davis will make a short speech thanking the members for their efforts and bidding the foreign delegates farewell.

BATTLED TO THE DEATH

Details of the Quarrel That Led Two Annapolis Students Engage in Fierce Contest.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22.—The courtmartial proceedings in the trial of Midshipman Minor Meriwether Jr., on three charges connected with the death of Midshipman James R. Branch, with whom he engaged in a fist fight, began today at the Naval Academy.

Counsel for the defense objected to Commander Sidney A. Staunton as a member of the court on account of having expressed an opinion of the guilt of the accused. The objection was sustained.

Most of the testimony this morning had direct bearing upon the second charge, that of violation of a rule for the government of the navy, the specification being that Meriwether had called Branch a sneak and a coward, or words to that effect.

EXISTENCE OF CODE.

Other important witnesses were midshipmen who were present when the cause of the trouble arose, and during the course of the evidence the fact of the existence of the "code," a body of laws outside and contrary to the regulations of the institution, was clearly established.

A surprise developed in the fact that U. S. District Attorney John C. Rose of Baltimore would assist Captain Marix, judge advocate, for the prosecution. It is most unusual for a judge advocate to have assistance, and the incident indicates how important the present case is regarded by the Federal authorities, the personal element being entirely subverted to the question of the effect of the "code" at the academy, and the subjects of fighting and hazing closely connected with it. Mr. Rose was assigned to the work by the department of justice at the request of the Navy Department, and was present at the beginning of the session today.

WITNESSES CALLED.

The accused is defended by Lieut.-Commander James K. Robinson, U. S. N., and James M. Monroe, of the Annapolis bar.

The first two witnesses called were Midshipmen James P. Vandecarr and Earl W. Pritchard, classmates of Branch, and their evidence bore directly on the second charge, that of quarreling with a person in the naval service, with an idirect relation to the man charge of manslaughter.

Midshipman Vandecarr said that his seat at the table was next to Midshipman Meriwether, and that on the evening of October 31, Meriwether had told him that Branch had done all he could to make his (Meriwether's) life miserable while he had been at the academy, that he hated Branch, and was going to make him fight if there was any fight in him, that there were only a few people that he hated, and that Branch was one of them. The next day, Midshipman Vandecarr testified, Meriwether had said that it was all fixed that he and Branch had arranged to fight.

MAKES A CHARGE.

Midshipman Earl W. Pritchard, the next witness, was the roommate of Branch, and also from Louisiana. His testimony was of the utmost importance, covering the whole facts in the incident that lead directly to the fight. Meriwether had, he said, come to the room occupied by himself and Branch, accompanied by Midshipman Yeager. Branch had gone to bed, but rose on his elbow and turned on a light just above him, remaining in that position during the conversation. Meriwether accused Branch of acting unfairly towards him in using his official position as midshipman in charge of the floor to report him about the matter of a dress suit case containing civilian clothes, and charged Branch with having a grudge against him.

SNEAKING COWARD.

The latter Branch admitted. Meriwether then said that Branch was a "damned low down sneaking coward."

Branch then told Meriwether that his class could compel him to leave the Academy and to this Meriwether answered that he did not care if they did, that he was not going to be used badly by anyone.

The conversation continued and Branch told Meriwether that he had only reported one man since he had been at the academy and that he could not help. Meriwether rejoined that if he ever reported him he would have to fight. There was some further talk about the standing of the families to which they belonged and the affair closed with Meriwether calling Branch a "sneaky coward," "a damned coward," and "no gentleman."

After Meriwether and Yeager had left Branch asked the witness what he should do and was told that a fight was necessary. Afterwards Branch had told him that he had not reported Meriwether. An upper class man, Noyes, had spoken to him about it and he had come to the conclusion that it would be a dirty trick to do so.

CALLED A FOOL.

Ralph Yeager, a classmate of Meriwether, and who went to the room with him on the night of the quarrel, testified that Branch had called Meriwether "a damn fool" when he came to the room and said that he was "damn ratty." By the latter Yeager explained that it was meant that he did things that the "code" did not allow for members of his class. It was explained that a fourth class man, for instance, has to keep away from certain walks of the academy, turn squarely at corners, never look at an upper class man, never talk to girls, observe certain regulations when eating, and speak most respectfully when spoken to by an upper class man. This, it appears, was still the unwritten law of the institution where hazing has been abolished.

THEIR WEIGHTS.

Dr. Robert E. Hoyt, head of the department of physical culture at the academy, furnished interesting data on the comparative size and strength of Meriwether and Branch, taken from the actual measurements of the academy. While it is a fact that Meriwether was slightly older, heavier and taller, Branch was larger of chest and arm and his total percentage of strength was about a fifth greater than Meriwether's.

Commander Colvocoresses was closely questioned by the Judge Advocate and the court in regard to the attitude of the academy authorities towards fighting. He said most emphatically that there was no hinting at it, but every such offense would be punished severely if known. He also testified that all midshipmen were made acquainted with the regulations of the navy by the copies which were put in their hands and by oral instruction. He showed the court the gloves which had been turned over to him as having been used in the fight. They are known as punching bag gloves and are used as a protection for the hands when punching the bag and have almost no padding.

WANTED TO END FIGHT.

Midshipman Harold V. McKittrick, who acted as a second for Branch during the fight, told of their engagement and the insistence of both boys that the fight should be to a finish. The fight itself, he testified, lasted over twenty-two rounds of two minutes each with one minute intermission. Early in the fight one of Branch's eyes was closed, but he was holding his own. At the end of the twenty-second round, Meriweather fouled by hitting in a clinch and offered to forfeit the fight This Branch and his seconds would not allow, insisting on a finish. This is regarded as a strong point for Meriwether, showing that he wished the fight to stop.

HER STORY NOT BELIEVED

MRS. HONORA JACOBUS MAKES SENSATIONAL STATEMENTS ABOUT HER FAMILY.

A petition has been made by Honora C. Jacobus to be restored to capacity, having been adjudged incompetent some months ago. She was sent by her family to the Magdaline Home in San Francisco, from where she has since been liberated. Behind her commitment, however, Attorney John Gwilt, who represents her, says there are disclosures which, if what his client tells him are true, reveal a terrible state of affairs.

Mrs. Jacobus, who has been a victim of drink, declares that she was chained to a rafter in her home for days.

It is understood, however, that her children have been very kind to her and that her sensational statements are not based on facts.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

WASHINGTON, November 22.—Col. John R. Vanhoff, medical department U. S. A., who has recently returned from the Russian army in Manchuria, with which he went through part of the campaign in the war against Japan, has been authorized by the chief of staff to give out excerpts from his official report. According to Col. Vanhoff the number of killed and dead from wounds was 37,642 men and the number of dead from disease 18,839. These statistics are exclusive of casualties at Port Arthur and show almost exactly two men dead from results of battle to one man dead from sickness. This record is, according to statistics, the best made in any war up to the present time.

TO BE SHOT

Three Americans to Pay the Penalty For Brutal Murder.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 22.—In Chihauhau last evening, Judge Rios sentenced C. T. Richardson, C. S. Harle and William Mason, three Americans, to be shot. The three men were accused of murdering two men in Chihauhau for life insurance money. Richardson being an insurance agent, Mason, his brother-in-law, the assistant agent, and Harle the examining physician. They murdered a man named Devers, who they decoyed from El Paso, and another man named Mitchell, who is said to be a half-brother of Mason. Richardson is from Rochester, N. Y., where he had a bad record as a lawyer, and where he married Mason's sister. The case has been in the Mexican courts three years, the arrest having taken place in El Paso and the men having been extradited from there. Harle was formerly an El Paso physician.

FIRST WHITE MAN TO CROSS LABRADOR

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 22.—Letters received today from Dillon Wallace, the Labrador explorer and New York lawyer, contained the news that he had successfully crossed Labrador. Mr. Wallace is the first white man who has ever crossed Labrador without either guides or Indian assistants. With Mr. Wallace was one companion named Easton. The letters said that both are well and had plenty of provisions when they reached the province of Ungava, on October 16.

In 1904 Mr. Wallace went with Leonidas Hubbard's ill-fated expedition. Mr. Hubbard, whose purpose was to cross Labrador, lost his life from starvation and Mr. Wallace was found by the rescuing party after he had fallen exhausted in the snow.

Although the most perilous part of Mr. Wallace's trip is completed, he still has before him a winter of travel by snowshoes before he reaches civilization. He and Mr. Easton at the time when the letters were written were planning to start westward through the Ungava for George's river post and thence to reach Fort Chimo, which is one of the most northerly points on the mainland of North America. Here the two will wait until the coast waterways are frozen over. Then they intend to start southward toward Quebec on the frozen rivers, traveling with dog sleds and snowshoes. Mr. Wallace said he expected to reach Quebec in April.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Fire Chief N. A. Ball this morning, at the meeting of the Board of Public Works, called attention to the fact that the Contra Costa Water Company did not have sufficiently large water mains in the northeastern portion of the city for fire protection. Chief Ball stated it was impossible to place a hydrant at the corner of Forty-eighth and Cherry streets because the mains at that point were only two inches wide.

Mayor Mott said that some steps would have to be taken to remedy this condition of affairs.

City Engineer Turner stated that if the Contra Costa Water Company failed to put in new mains and additional hydrants that the city could dig a sufficient number of wells to give the city ample fire protection and water for sprinkling the streets.

PEOPLE MAY STARVE.

TOKIO, November 22, 6 p. m.—An eye witness who left Vladivostok on November 18 reports at Nagasaki that food is scanty there owing to the destruction of the storehouses and that only sufficient barley remains to support the people for twenty days.

Another person who has arrived at Moji who left Vladivostok on November 20 reports that rioting has ceased there. The streets, he says, are a mass of debris and bloodstains are in evidence everywhere. Many corpses are still lying exposed, forming a gruesome sight.

GOVERNMENT PLOTTERS.

HAVANA, November 22.—Sixty Remington rifles were seized by the police last night in a raid on a house near San Juan de Martinez, province of Pinar del Rio, in which fifty anti-government plotters were meeting. A dozen of the latter were captured.

Col. Julian Cruz, a prominent citizen of Pinar del Rio and at present at Havana, has been arrested in connection with the anti-government movement and will be taken to Pinar del Rio for trial.

WILL SUCCEED HIMSELF.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 22.—William Koch, grand foreman of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen will succeed himself. The adoption of the report of the credentials committee in the conclave here by a vote of 74 to 8, seated the Koch Iowa delegation and this is regarded as settling the fight. The election will be deferred until tomorrow.

WILL TESTIFY.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 22.—William S. Manning of Albany, referred to at yesterday's session of the insurance investigation as "Mr. Depew's cantankerous friend," has been subpoenaed to appear before the insurance committee in New York tomorrow.

TALK MINES

State Association Opens its Session in Nevada City.

NEVADA, Cal., Nov. 22.—The fourteenth annual convention of the California State Miners' Association convened in Nevada Theater today. It was called to order by President Edward J. Benjamin, who delivered a short address.

Governor Pardee welcomed the miners in behalf of the State, making a short but interesting speech full of good wishes for the miners.

Fred Searles delivered an address of welcome in behalf of Nevada City, in which he stated that while they were here the city was the host of the miners.

"Anything you don't see, ask for," he said, "and we will see that you get it."

All three speakers were loudly cheered. The theater was profusely decorated for the occasion with handsome banners of all the mining counties in the State, and of the mining States of the country. The delegates were met at Colfax by a reception committee. While at the depot a brass band and a large delegation of citizens, congregated to extend them a true mountain welcome.

This afternoon the ladies of the city tendered a brilliant reception at the National Hotel to Mrs. Pardee and the other ladies of the delegation.

At this afternoon's session the reports of the credentials and order of business committee were read. The former consisted of Englebright, Belshaw, Brown, Ensign and Smith, and the latter of Ward, Rector, O'Brien, Christy, Tredigo, Wright and Wehe. A recommendation was made that the convention's meeting place be fixed annually instead of holding it in San Francisco every year as formerly.

The address of President Benjamin recommended that hydraulic miners pool their intrests, raise a large fund, say $75,000,000, purchase all swamp and flood lands, erect dams with proper drainage to carry light debris to the lands, and thus work their own system of reclamation. It is claimed that a few years later the lands will be worth probably $150,000,000.

WOMAN INJURED

SAN JOSE, Nov. 22.—Mrs. H. H. Hunting of 643 North Fifth street, while riding her bicycle at the intersection of Santa Clara and First streets this afternoon, was struck and run over by an automobile driven by George Plyler, a local collector. Plyler drove on to his office and at first denied that he had run over the woman. He was arrested. Mrs. Hunting was conveyed to a drug store, where it was found that she had been seriously, although possibly not fatally, injured. Plyler was jeered by a large crowd as he was taken away by the police.

FIRE IN CAFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Shortly after the noon hour today fire was discovered in the rear and lower floor of the Thompson cafe on Eddy street. The dense smoke indicated a stubborn blaze to fight, but the department soon had the fire under control. The Francis-Valentine Printing Company also occupies this building.

FAIRBANKS SELECTS WASHINGTON HOME

WASHINGTON, November 22.—Vice-President Fairbanks is to occupy during the present season the residence of Representative Morrell of Philadelphia at the northwest corner of Seventeenth and K streets, opposite Farragut Square. The house is one of the largest private residences in the city and formerly was the home of the late Senator Stanford of California.

BOGUS FOOTBALL TICKETS.

CHICAGO, November 22.—Because of the numerous complaints received regarding the sale of spurious tickets for the football game between Michigan and Chicago on Thanksgiving day, Chief of Police Collins today issued orders directing the arrest of any persons found to be speculating in the tickets. At the Palmer House, H. N. Waterfall, who asked $5, $8 and $10 for $1.50, $3 and $5 tickets respectively, was taken into custody. Other arrests will be made as rapidly as the police can locate the speculators.

BACK CZAR

Zemstvos Will Stand Behind Government Forces.

MOSCOW, Nov. 22.—At the end of four days' debate the executive committee of the Zemstvo Congress brought in the following resolution in favor of supporting the government, the reading of which was greeted with tremendous applause:

"Considering that the imperial manifesto satisfied all the demands voiced since the Zemstvo congress of a year ago, and that the liberties accorded by the manifesto are indispensable to the tranquilization of the country, the congress declares itself in complete solidarity with this constitutional basis. The responsibility for the realization of the program rests upon the cabinet. The congress is convinced that the cabinet can count on the support of the great majority of the zemstvos and municipalities, so long as it follows the path for the accomplishment of liberties promised by the manifesto, but every deviation will encounter decisive opposition.

"The congress believes that the sole means of guaranteeing the authority of the government, the pacification of the country and the support of the people's representatives are the immediate promulgation of universal suffrage in elections to the Douma, the transformation of the first Douma into a constituent assembly with the approbation of the Emperor, of a constitution for the Russian Empire, and the organization of territorial reforms.

"Measures for the realization of the liberties granted by the manifesto are regarded as immediately imperative."

ARRANGEMENTS FOR HEBREW CELEBRATION

A meeting of the committee of arrangements for commemoration, by orthodox Jews, of the first settlement in this country of Jews, 250 years ago, will be held tomorrow night in the Russ-street synagogue, San Francisco. The members of the committee on this side of the bay have been specially requested to be present. This celebration will be held apart from that which was planned some time ago by members of the larger synagogues in San Francisco.

SMOKER PLANNED BY MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE

The Merchants' Exchange will give a smoker next Friday night in Franklin Hall, on Thirteenth street, between Broadway and Franklin streets. Admission will be secured by cards of invitation which have been issued and which will be presented at the door. The committee in charge of the affair comprises J. C. Downey, H. N. Gard, R. Briare, E. F. Muller and H. C. Coward.

ONE SHOT

That Was All That Was Necessary Was Stop a Thief.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Not until a shot from a patrolman's revolver warned him that further flight would be dangerous did J. B. Duff, who is accused of assaulting and attempting to rob H. F. W. Spreen, a local hotel man, come to a halt. Then he put up both hands and begged for mercy, and while standing in this position the 'cuffs were deftly slipped upon his wrists.

It was shortly after 1 o'clock this morning that H. F. W. Spreen, who keeps a hotel at 606 Geary street, was walking along Stockton street, between Pine and Bush streets. Suddenly a young man, unmasked and apparently unarmed, jumped out of a darkened doorway and struck him a stunning blow in the face. His assailant demanded money immediately after the blow was struck, but Spreen showed fight and for a few minutes the pair struggled on the sidewalk. Attracted by the struggle, C. M. Donovan, a Morse patrolman, hastened to the scene. At his approach Spreen's assailant broke away and started to run. Donovan gave chase along Stockton street to Pine, and there the man he was folowing turned the corner. Donovan continued the chase, and when he reached the corner his man was still in sight. He fired one shot from his revolver to frighten the fleeing robber, who at once stopped, turned around and cried out:

"Don't shoot me! Don't shoot me! I did not know you were an officer!"

MANGIN WILL CONTEST.

The trial of the Mangin will contest was resumed today and further testimony in regard to how the late August Mangin Sr. felt towards his two sons, August and Eugene, was elicited from Mrs. Q. Chase, a neighbor, who lives not far from the Mangin home. She stated that she did not know Mangin Sr. very well, but that she had talked to him about the boys on many occasions as she happened to be going past their home. She said that the father had told her that Eugene had displeased him very much by going into the plumbing business and also by his enlisting in the navy from which he afterwards deserted. He considered himself disgraced, she said, on this account.

TURN GAS

One Man is Dead and the Other is Said to be Dying

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—When Joseph Ferroni and Joseph Filippi retired last night in the room they shared at the home of Louis Ferroni, chef of the Union League Club, they left the gas jet open, and this morning the two men were discovered on the verge of death. It was too late to save Filippi, and he died on the way to the Central Emergency Hospital. Ferroni is still unconscious.

POLITICAL STRUGGLE IS BEGUN

Zemstvo Congress Debating on Whether to Support Witte.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—All eyes continue to be riveted on Moscow, where the struggle in the Zemstvo Congress on the question of supporting Premier Witte is continuing. Some of the most powerful men in the congress are urging the necessity for rallying the moderate sentiment in support of the government, but the irreconcilable radical element appears to make a split inevitable. Should a resolution to support the Premier be carried, it seems almost certain that it will be coupled with conditions. The idea of a constituent assembly seems to have been abandoned, but not the demand for universal suffrage, to which the Premier is likely to yield.

The only direct proposition thus far before the congress is Prince Dolgoroukoff's plea for support of the government so long as it follows the principles of a constitutional regime. But the section under the leadership of M. Roberti insists that portfolios be given to men known to be in sympathy with the cause of freedom, universal suffrage and the immediate trial and punishment of all officials guilty of connection with the recent massacres.

Prince Eugene Troubetskoy's followers will be content with an advisory council for the cabinet.

Dimitri Shipoff and M. Guchkoff, who may be regarded as Count Witte's representatives in the congress, are watching the trend of sentiment, but have not yet shown their hands. The prolongation of the struggle, now in its fourth day, is regarded as being favorable to the government, since with the exception of a few extremists who declare that no alliance with the present government is possible, practically all the leaders of every shade of opinion have expressed the realization that only co-operation with the government could prevent a reign of terror and anarchy.

The Russ declares that the Liberals who are being blamed for not supporting the government, are totally misunderstood abroad, where Count Witte is regarded as the savior of Russia from the monarchy and reaction. The only decree obtained in three weeks from Count Witte, the Russ avers, is liberty of the press, which was wrested from him, and was not voluntarily granted. Continuing, the Russ says:

"Europe and America tell us that we are threatened with a dictatorship. Should a dictatorship be announced today, all Russia would engage on a strike of such a character tomorrow that only Tsarskoe-Selo would remain true to the dynasty. The foreign countries which advise reasonableness will not lend us a cent, knowing that the future government of Russia would not recognize loans made to dictators who borrow but never pay. The foreigners forget that the Earl of Strafford himself perished and did not save Charles I."

ACCUSE BELASCO OF PLAGIARISM

NEW YORK, November 22—The World says: "In this month's number of Appleton's Booklovers' Magazine there is an article on 'The Art of Acting,' over which the name of David Belasco appears as that of the author. It takes up three pages, and is a valuable exposition of the principles of stage art. Almost the whole of it, line for line, word for word, was published thirty years ago in England in a book written by George Henry Lewes entitled 'On Actors and the Art of Acting.'

"In this, Belasco's most recent literary output, there appears to have been no effort to weave in his own work with that of another writer. Always, the matter had been taken bodily, even to his mistakes in English, and peculiarities of capitalization. There are four lines in the magazine article that do not appear in Lewes' book. These are introductory paragraphs. After that, it is a mosaic made entirely of pickings from the English author."

The World runs the deadly parallel, giving on one side a paragraph from Belasco's article, and on the other the identical paragraph and the number of the pages from Lewes' book. According to evidence presented by the World, there is no possible chance for Belasco to plead unconscious plagiarism.

The World gives no statement by Belasco, and he was evidently not interviewed before the publication of the deadly parallel.

This is not the first time Belasco has been accused of plagiarism. A young man made a similar charge concerning his play, "The Darling of the Gods," and Belasco's recent success, "The Girl of the Golden West," has also been the subject of attack by another playwright.

SUES ESTATE OF A NOTED SINGER

NEW YORK, November 22.—The Paris correspondent of the Morning Telegram says: The career of the American soprano, Sybil Sanderson, was recalled with all its painful details in the civil tribunal of the Seine recently when the executor of the dead singer resisted a claim for $30,000 made against her estate by a jeweler.

The administrator of the estate contests the claim on the ground that there is no evidence of her ever having had possession of any such jewels or of having pawned them; in fact, no trace of the jewels has been found. In reply the plaintiff's counsel refers the defendant to the bill itself, signed by Sybil Sanderson, promising to pay $30,000 "for value received in goods." Judgment has not been rendered.

Sybil Sanderson left $100,000 in debts and few assets. In the course of his remarks counsel for the executor made the statement that she had always been afflicted with stage fright, and to counteract it used alcoholic stimulants, and died of cirrhosis of the liver.

MACDONOUGH PLAYS

Persons who, besides enjoying a good play, are interested in a stage achievement that took twenty men five months to build, will be sure to see Klimt & Zazzolo's "On the Bridge at Midnight," which is coming soon. They will find the $10,000 reproduction of the jackknife style of drawbridge equal to the expectation aroused by its fame and they will be delighted with the bright comedy and romance of W. L. Roberts' well known drama. The author and producers were determined that "On the Bridge at Midnight" should not offer the usual cheap sensational effects, but, on the contrary, should be a play of genuine merit, not by any means wholly dependent on its most remarkable climax for success. There will be two performances of "On the Bridge at Midnight," Thursday and Friday, November 23 and 24. Seats now on sale.

In "Polly Primrose," which is to be staged at the Macdonough Theater on November 25 and 26, Miss Carol Arden employs her piano with charming naivette to "smoke out" the suspected spy who is her father's guest and to test his affection for her at the same time. The roguish girl who wants to know how to bind and torment her sweetheart in the same stroke will resort to her piano after seeing the wonders in lovemaking that "Polly" achieves with hers. But "Polly" does not rest her case with her piano. She is as resourceful as she is playful and turns every situation to the achievement of her ends—a teasing little rogue of a college girl, full of bright strategems and amusing intrigues, with which she draws while seeming to repulse. A most entertaining and lovable vixen is "Polly Primrose," as Carol Arden portrays her.

The author has spiced this cheerful romance with a dash of the war flavor, by linking "Polly's" love arts with the attempt of Lee to capture Washington in the time of the rebellion. Her father is a Southern colonel, of such decided but unsuspected rebel sympathies, that his home on the outskirts of Washington is the scene of plots to aid the great Confederate's plans.

TO LECTURE.

Rev. M. La Blaney will deliver his popular lecture entitled "How Did the Devil Get Into Heaven?" at the New Thought Hall, tonight, at 7:30 o'clock. Admission free.

There are going to be many weddings between now and Christmas, and we want every young couple to start right. We want you to know the pleasure of a first breakfast at your own round table, and an evening smoke in your own easy chair. You will have expenses enough, so we are going to accept your credit almost entirely on the promise that your future gives.

There are serious minded men and women who are going to make beautiful and useful gifts to their and to others' homes.

And to prove our faith in the home-builders of the West, we are going to accept whatever deposits are offered. For we are big enough and strong enough to do this, and we do not fear the credit of the man who wants a home.

MAGNESITE FOR FACTORY

MINES BACK OF LIVERMORE ARE NOW READY FOR BUSINESS.

After years of preparation and an expenditure of thousands of dollars the American Magnesite Company is ready to begin operations.

As mentioned last week, the first traction trainload of ore arrived from Red Mountain last Thursday evening. The first carload was shipped to the works in Oakland on Friday. The works will be ready for business as soon as a sufficient supply of ore is on hand. The average receipts from the mines has been a trainload a day, which is all that was expected with the present rolling stock, but there has been much inconvenience in handling the ore owing to the inability to use the bunkers. It was found necessary to dump the ore on the ground, after which it has to be shoveled into flat cars provided by the railroad company. The bunkers, which were erected very substantially and at great cost, are so faulty in design that they will have to be practically rebuilt. They are built on the same general plan as coal bunkers. A heavy frame work supports a series of bins, which are high enough from the ground so that the ore runs through chutes into the cars. There is a long, gradual approach at one end up which the traction engines are supposed to haul the loaded trucks until they reach the level space over the bins, where they dump it in the usual way. They are then supposed to run down an incline on the other side when empty. The approach is gradual enough so that the ascent can be made with comparative ease, but the descent is an angle of fully thirty degress and the engineers refused to risk their lives and their machines in making the descent. Thursday noon, in the presence of Daniel Best, manufacturer of the engines, and the officials of the Magnesite Company, Engineer Charles Boone took his engine over on a trial trip. He made the trip up and across the bunkers and every one held his breath when the descent began, but it was not for long, as the engine made a plunge down the decline which threw Fireman John Wootten from his seat and tore up the ground as it struck. The engine was not injured, but it was decided not to risk another trial until the sharper incline has been lengthened.

Some difficulty is being experienced in finding a street that can be used for the loaded trains in passing through town. Much to the general surprise, the hard-graveled streets are badly torn up, while the oiled streets show nothing but a shallow track made by the flange of the tiller wheel. It may be found necessary to use Lizzie and First streets until some back street can be treated with oil for the exclusive use of the Traction Company.—Livermore Herald.

SCOTTY'S MINE IS FOUND, HE SAYS

RENO, Nevada, Nov. 22.—According to Rube Speer, well known in Goldfield, Scotty's mine has been discovered. He says it is not in the Funeral range, as generally believed, but on the west side of Death valley, in the Panamint range northwest of Emigrant Spring, a few miles north of the trail from Ballarat.

Speer claims that he followed Scotty's secretary when the latter left Los Angeles a few weeks ago to provide more funds for "the spender." On reaching the valley, which Speer is reputed to know better than any living man, he trailed the secretary from a distance. To prove his assertions, Speer is displaying specimens of ore brought from the spot which are very rich. He gives a very circumstantial account of the trip.

AGED WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Panette Clark, 74 years old, died at her home, alone and helpless, yesterday, her head resting on the burner of a gas stove. She was a well known charity worker and one of the founders and charter members of the Chicago Commons Women's Clubs. The supposition is that Mrs. Clark, while preparing her supper, fainted, falling across the stove. Whether death was caused by the severe burns or by asphyxiation is unknown. When a neighbor found the body the stove was cold and gas was escaping.

VACCINATION AND DANDRUFF.

There Is As Sure Prevention of Baldness as There is of Smallpox.

It is now accepted that vaccination renders the vaccinated person exempt from smallpox; or at worst, he never has anything but the lightest kind of a case. Now as sure a preventive and cure for dandruff, which causes falling hair and baldness, has been discovered—Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the dandruff germ. C. H. Reed, Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife have been troubled with dandruff and falling hair for several years. We tried remedies without effect until we used Newbro's Herpicide; two bottles of which cured us." Hundreds of similar testimonials. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Michigan.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE COUNTY PAPERS

The run on sugar beets at the mill at Alvarado is nearing its close. They are turning out 2000 sacks of sugar per day at the present crushing. The season has been unusually favorable to the sugar beets this year, they averaging about 17 per cent.—Washington Press.

AUTOMOBOLIST.

The police of Oakland are doing a good work in arresting those who break the law in regard to the speed of automobiles. The crusade which they have inaugurated should be kept up till those "speedy fellows" who think they own the earth, are made to realize that other people have a right on our public thoroughfares.—Washington Press.

A GRAND MEETING.

The fifth convention of the Women's Clubs of the Alameda District which met in Odd Fellows' Hall, Niles, Friday, under the auspices of the Country Club of Washington township, proved to be a grand affair.

The district consists of five counties—Alameda, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Tuolumne and Calaveras, which sent in the neighborhood of 200 delegates.

Mrs. J. E. Thane, president, called the meeting to order shortly after 10 o'clock, and in a few well chosen words welcomed the delegates to Niles, and the hospitality of the Country Club.

Reports from the several officers of the club were read, after which the presidents of the thirteen clubs of the Alameda District made their reports.

Mrs. J. E. Thane, who has been filling out an unexpired term, was unanimously elected president, which result was received with much applause.

At the conclusion of the election of officers the delegates were invited to the banquet hall, where for more than an hour justice was done to the good things prepared for them. Several of the ladies spoke at the banquet board, their remarks producing much laughter and clapping of hands.

At 2:15 the meeting was again called to order, and the full afternoon taken up in committee reports, and adresses on many subjects dear to club life.

The address of Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, was a masterly effort, and was listened to throughout with the greatest of interest.

The meeting came to a close at a late hour by all present singing "America."—Washington Press.

POINT RICHMOND JEWELER A CONFESSED THIEF

Steals Goods Valued at $10,000; Wants to End Life When He's Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—After being confronted by the police with the theft of jewelry from a San Francisco jewelry firm, F. P. Sargeant, a well known jeweler of Point Richmond, confessed that he had victimized wholesale jewelers in San Francisco to the extent of $10,000, by the theft of diamonds and other precious stones.

Some of the firms victimized by Sargeant include A. Eisenberg & Co., jewelers in the Thurlow block, Kearny street; Jacoby & Co., jewelers; Reynolds & Co., Kohler & Chase, Sherman, Clay & Co., and Curtaz & Sons.

Sargeant is also suspected of having taken $1200 worth of diamonds from C. W. Lawrence, jewelry drummer, who exhibited his stock at the Palace Hotel in September last. Sargeant and his wife both attended the exhibition at the Palace Hotel, and shortly after they left Lawrence missed six diamonds valued at about $1200. He immediately reported the matter to the police, but no clews were obtained.

The method used by Sargeant is to simply pocket the goods which he wanted while examining the stock spread out for him to select whatever he wants to purchase.

LEADS TO DISCOVERY.

The theft of $4500 worth of diamonds and jewelry from the store of A. Eisenberg & Co., last Friday, led to the discovery of Sargeant. He had been in the store Friday with Al. Eisenberg, the senior member of the firm, to purchase some articles, and when his back was turned, Sargeant pocketed three packages of unset diamonds valued at $3500, and a package of jewelry valued at $1000.

The loss was not noticed by Eisenberg at the time, and the police were not notified until yesterday afternoon, when J. Benjamin, one of the clerks in Eisenberg's store, saw Sargeant in a shoe store on Third street. He telephoned to his employer, who in turn told the story to Captain Burnett, and Detective O'Dea was sent out to arrest him. A small satchel containing a valuable assortment of jewelry was found in his possession when arrested.

Sargeant was taken to Point Richmond, where, after submitting to the sweating process, he confessed his guilt. He led the detective to the store of Spiersch Bros., where the diamonds had been left by Sargeant with the request that the package be taken care of until he called for it.

The package had been given to the wife of Richard Spiersch, and when asked for it, she took it from under the bathtub, where she had placed it for safekeeping until Sargeant called for it, not knowing anything about the nature of its contents.

The Spiersch family are not suspected of having played any part in the affair.

JEWELS MISSING.

After the recovery of the jewelry by Eisenberg, it came out that the Point Richmond store had benefited by the loss of $1000 worth of rubies from the store of Jacoby & Co., a neighbor of Eisenberg. These rubies had all been disposed of by Sargeant except one, which was set in a ring and placed in his show window. Sargeant refuses to say what became of the others.

While the detectives were bringing him from Point Richmond to the city on the ferry he begged them to throw him overboard, or to let him have his knife, which they had taken from him when he was searched.

Sargeant opened his jewelry store in Point Richmond about eighteen months ago, having come from Iowa, where he conducted a large jewelry business. He has a wife and three step-children.

MANY DEATHS FROM THE CHOLERA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—According to a report from Chief Quarantine Officer Heazer at Manila, the total number of cases of cholera in Manila since the beginning of the outbreak is 198, with 172 deaths; total number in the provinces, 326 cases and 251 deaths.

SOUND SLEEP

Can Easily Be Secured.

"Up to two years ago" a woman writes, "I was in the habit of using both tea and coffee regularly.

"I found that my health was beginning to fail, strange nervous attacks would come suddenly upon me, making me tremble so excessively that I could not do my work while they lasted; my sleep left me and I passed long nights in restles discomfort. I was filled with a nervous dread as to the future.

"A friend suggested that possibly tea and coffee were to blame, and I decided to give them up, and in casting about for a hot table beverage, which I felt was an absolute necessity, I was led by good fortune to try Postum Food Coffee. For more than a year I have used it three times a day and expect, so much good has it done me, to continue its use during the rest of my life.

"Soon after beginning the use of Postum, I found, to my surprise, that, instead of tossing on a sleepless bed through the long, dreary night, I dropped into a sound, dreamless sleep the moment my head touched the pillow. Then I suddenly realized that all my nervousness had left me, and my appetite, which had fallen off before, had all at once been restored so that I ate my food with a keen relish.

"All the nervous dread has gone. I walk a mile and a half each way to my work every day and enjoy it. I find an interest in everything that goes on about me that makes life a pleasure. All this I owe to leaving off tea and coffee and the use of Postum, for I have taken no medicine." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Michigan.

There's a reason.

ITALIANS FOR TEXAS

PRESIDENT IS ASKED TO SEE THEY DO NOT CONGREGATE IN TOWNS.

ROME, Nov. 22.—Inspector Adolfo Rossi, the special representative of the Italian government for emigration, now in the United States, has sent the government an important report of an interview which he had with President Rosevelt, November 9.

The inspector said the President promised to do everything possible to prevent the congestion of Italian emigrants in the large towns, and to cause them instead to be spread throughout the agricultural regions, where they can best serve themselves and the United States. Successful experiments in this direction, the inspector adds, have been made.

From a report of Chevalier Forni, the Italian consul at New Orleans, it appears that Texas offers good ground for emigration. The consul urges the government to promote Italian emigration to Texas.

TRYING TO UNITE NOT TO DIVIDE

ALBANY, Nov. 22.—Governor Higgins, who returned yesterday from Washington, would not add anything regarding his interview with President Roosevelt to what had already been made public in Washington.

The Governor said, however, that he would probably have "something interesting" to say within a day or so. He would not say in what connection it would be.

The Governor was shown the dispatch quoting former Governor Odell with reference to the Presidency of the New York County Republican Committee, and the supposed attitude of President Roosevelt on that subject, but he would not discuss it. "It is good as far as it goes," he said.

"Governor Odell says he does not know which side you would line up in a fight," was said to him.

"I am trying to unite, not to divide the elements in the Republican party," said the Governor.

DESIRABLE CHANGES IN THE COLLGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—G. Stanley Hall, President of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., spoke on "Certain Changes Desirable to American Colleges," at Columbia University last night.

"The modern college professor," he said, "does not hold the same position today that he did a few years ago. He has become merged into the University. According to the modern college arangement every pupil will soon have his own professor."

President Hall is not in favor of the present system of college entrance examinations. He believes they are entirely too difficult.

"The tendency is to standardize knowledge, so that it is like baled hay," he said. "It is put up in packages, and is discouraging food to the youth who wants to preserve his individuality. At the Leland Stanford University there is practically no entrance examination. The seeker for knowledge finds the gates open. Colleges ought to be open to every one who can profit by the privilege. That a man has read the Bible in English is a sufficient entrance examination."

"The tendency nowadays," said President Hall, "is to sidetrack all humanistic studies. Astronomy, which is one of the greatest uplifting studies, is fast becoming a dead letter."

President Hall said that "although religion had reached a low ebb in the colleges, there was a strong tendency to bring it back to life. Religion," he said, "is the central goal of all humanistic things."

PROVES THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

The value of advertising is shown in the number of responses received by the California Promotion Committee to the notice printed in this and other papers throughout the State, asking that readers send names of Eastern friends to the Promotion Committee in order that literature relating to California might be sent them. Within two weeks after the appearance of the notice the Promotion Committee received 200 names, and immediately sent to the addresses given literature telling of the benefits awaiting the Easterners should they come to the Golden State.

It is in action of this kind that the people of California can assist the California Promotion Committee in its unselfish work of building up the State with desirable inhabitants. Every person in California knows some one in the East, and if the name and address be sent to the Promotion Committee, that organization, which has for its object the upbuilding of California, will at once enter into correspondence with the Eastern friends and seek to induce them to come to California.

It is hoped that all those who read this article may be moved to action and send names and addresses to the California Promotion Committee, 25 New Montgomery street, San Francisco.

REDWOOD CAUSES IT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A cargo of redwood, the fumes of which tainted the food and spoiled the water, was responsible for a terrible adventure which was reported yesterday by offirain in the South Atlantic Ocean and whic was reported yesterday by officers of the steamer Koranna. The steamer is in port here from Calcutta. While in midocean the Koranna sighted the bark becalmed and flying a distress signal for provisions. Four sailors in a boat put out from the bark for the Koranna and those on board the steamer were shocked to see that the four oarsmen reeled in their seats from exhaustion. The condition of those remaining on the bark was found to be even more pitiful. It was explained that a cargo of redwood obtained in South America, while still heavy with sap, had tainted both food and water with its fumes. For six weeks previous to the Koranna's appearance the twenty-two men in the bark had drunk rain water and eaten salt pork. The captain and the first mate, both ill with scurvy, had been carried to their bunks many days before, and the command of the starving ship had devolved upon the inferior officers. Every man of the crew was ill.

Provisions, medicine and nursing were supplied to the bark by the Koranna, after which the vessels parted company since then the Werrain has been reported as safely in port at Port Natal, Africa.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

SECOND TIME CASE IS DECIDED

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Board of United States General Appraisers decided yesterday for the second time a test case brought by Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury, to determine the customs classification of steel strips which have been cold-rolled and smooth only.

The point in controversy was whether the strips, which are used for making car seat springs, are subject to the additional duty of one cent per pound, as contended by the government. There is no dispute regarding the regular duties these goods are called upon to pay under the terms of the Dingley tariff, the question hinging on the point of the extra assessment. The board sustains the claim of the importers that no additional duty is legally due on the strips, and in this respect the board's action is in harmony with the decision of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals rendered last March. Secretary Shaw will immediately direct an appeal to the Circuit Court.

LINCOLN MS. SOLD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A fine early Abraham Lincoln MS., a relic of Mr. Lincoln's career as an Illinois lawyer, was sold at auction. It is a legal document containing 67 lines in Lincoln's hanwriting. It is dated May 13, 1851. It sold for $50.

The pardon of Elizabeth Shorter, a quarto document, dated Washington, November 5, 1864, and signed by President Lincoln, brought $20. A two-page letter, signed but not written by George Washington, dated May 13, 1791, and addressed to the citizens of Savannah in response to an invitation, brought $47. The auction took place yesterday.

LET YOUR STOMACH HAVE ITS OWN WAY.

Do Not Try to Drive and Force It to Work When It Is Not Able Or You Will Suffer All the More.

You cannot treat your stomach as some men treat a balky horse; force, drive or even starve it into doing work at which it rebels. The stomach is a patient and faithful servant and will stand much abuse and ill-treatment before it "balks," but when it does you had better go slow with it it and not attempt to make it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their stomachs work by starving themselves. They might cure the stomach that way, but it would take so long that they would have no use for a stomach when they got through. The sensible way out of the difficulty is to let the stomach rest if it wants to and employ a substitute to do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work of your stomach for you and digest your food just as your stomach used to do when it was well. You can prove this by putting your food in a glass jar with one of the tablets and sufficient water and you will see the food digested in just the same time as the digestive fluids of the stomach would do it. That will satisfy your mind. Now, to satisfy both your mind and body take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating—eat all and what you want—and you will feel in your mind that your food is being digested because you will feel no disturbance or weight in your stomach; in fact, you will forget all about having a stomach, just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act in a natural way because they contain only the natural elements of the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach. It makes no difference what condition the stomach is in, they go right ahead of their own accord and do their work. They know their business and surrounding conditions do not influence them in the least. They thus relieve the weak stomach of all its burdens and give it its much-needed rest and permit it to become strong and healthy.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. They are so well known and their popularity is so great that a druggist would as soon think of being out of alcohol or quinine as of them. In fact, physicians are prescribing them all over the land, and if your own doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you frankly that there is nothing on earth so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Oakland Tribune

W. E. DARGIE, President.

Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth St., Oakland.

The President and Mr. Whitney

Probably few Californians fully understand the meaning of the sharp rejoinder made by the President to a letter from Henry M. Whitney of Boston requesting a personal interview in the hope of removing a personal misunderstanding To many the President's note denying the request may seem unnecessarily harsh, but when the facts of the case are fully understood it will be seen that his position is not only justifiable but his indignation perfectly natural.

Mr. Whitney has not only misquoted him to achieve personal and partisan ends but has endeavored to place him in a false position in regard to tariff revision and reciprocity with Canada

Mr. Whitney who is a brother of the late William C. Whitney, Cleveland's first Secretary of the Navy, was the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor at the late Massachusetts election He is also President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and several times a millionaire, being heavily interested in local public utility enterprises Politically he is an opponent of the protective tariff and a partisan Democrat of the old school 'Some time prior to his nomination for Lieutenant-Governor Mr. Whitney and two other gentlemen representing the Boston Chamber of Commerce called on the President to present their views regarding tariff revision and the establishment of reciprocity with Canada There was an informal discussion between the committee and the President of an economic and non-political character, nothing more. The President understood that he was speaking as an executive to business men on a subject relating to the general welfare of the country, without reference to the attitude of political parties or the personal political affiliations of those present.

Subsequently Mr Whitney took the stump on his own behalf as a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and quoted the President as making statements in the interview alluded to antagonistic to the Republican platform of Massachusetts and the position of Mr. Whitney's Republican antagonist Mr. Whitney called himself as a witness in his own behalf to give a garbled and partisan version of remarks made to Mr. Whitney as a representative of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. He did this avowedly to create a split in the Republican ranks and bring about the defeat of the Republican ticket in Massachusetts

The President said nothing while the campaign was in progress, because the dignity of his high office would not permit him to engage in personal altercation involving a question of veracity, but nevertheless he felt keenly the attempt to twist the purport of a personal interview on a matter of public business to private and partisan ends and range the President, by implication, in opposition to his party.

The recent appearance at the White House of a committee of Massachusetts manufacturers, headed by Governor Douglas, asking the President to recommend to Congress the abolition of the duty on hides gave Mr. Roosevelt an opportunity to set himself right and rebuke Mr. Whitney, whom he charged with violating confidence and grossly misrepresenting the language employed by the President and the ideas expressed by it during the interview now become historical.

Mr. Whitney wrote to the President requesting another interview, also demanding a bill of particulars as to the misrepresentations charged by the President. The letter contained a paragraph which was plainly drafted to draw the President out with reference to Canadian reciprocity. This attempt to make him commit himself on a delicate question of national policy gave added offense to the President, whose frank, direct mind revolts at chicane of every kind, and he gave Mr. Whitney a dressing down in unminced terms. He not only declined to see Mr. Whitney or be drawn out, but he gave that gentleman a bit of straightforward talk of the true Rooseveltian pattern. If the Whitney ears do not tingle they have lost sensitiveness.

It is not strange that the President should object to being drawn into an outside tariff controversy on the eve of the assemblage of Congress. The supreme issue at the coming session will be railroad rate legislation and the President desires to keep that issue disentangled from the tariff or any other vexatious problem Moreover, what he has to say on the subject of tariff revision and Canadian reciprocity, he desires to say, and very properly too, to Congress and not to committees representing local interests exclusively. Aside from that, experience had demonstrated that Mr Whitney was not a man with whom he could safely discuss such matters.

According to the New York papers the 2600 American and British sailors who were fed and entertained jointly at Coney Island in honor of Prince Louis of Battenberg and Admiral Bob Evans, drank 26,000 bottles of beer. Then they sang a song about blood being thicker than water. Ten bottles of beer per man must have given the singing a rare old cadence. No wonder the reporters spoke of the feasting tars as being jolly. It would not have been strange if they had been drunk.

A one-street town is sure to be a one-horse town. That is why Washington street should be opened at an early date. The whole business district south of Fourteenth street is interested in the opening, for business will neither stay congested nor be hemmed in between dead lines. Public convenience will also be served by extending Washington street to San Pablo avenue. It is to be hoped that the business men and property owners below Fourteenth street will soon take energetic action to bring about the extension. The sooner the project is agitated the sooner it will be accomplished.

A Charleston paper says the Southern people have never before taken so little interest in national politics The South is prosperous. There has been a change since Phil. Sheridan made his sententious remark that the trouble at the South was due to Southerners "raising too much h—l and not enough cotton." They are so busy now raising cotton and manufacturing it that they have little time or inclination for raising h—l In the meantime they have discovered that too much politics fruitlessly expends energies and discourages business enterprise.

"Once a Week" is the title of a bright, chatty little four-page weekly that has cantered into the local journalistic procession without blare of trumpet or other advertising fanfare. It is edited by Mrs. Zoe G. Radcliffe, who announces in a brief salutatory that the paper was born of Necessity We trust it will not be damned by Adversity. "Once a Week" is devoted to artistic, literary, musical and dramatic intelligence, more particularly of a local kind. It has abundant material to draw on, and as Mrs Radcliffe is widely familiar with such matters, she ought to present an entertaining budget each week.

When Oakland had her police scandal some time ago there was a good deal of haw-hawing in the San Francisco police department. Now the city across the bay has developed a scandal of the same character, and one nastier even. Members of the police force are charged with systematically burglarizing houses on their beats, and driving off or intimidating special officers whose vigilance interfered with the criminal industry of the regulars. But the parallel does not extend far. Oakland promptly aired her scandal, and dismissed the offenders from the police force; they would have been sent to prison, but for the lack of evidence technically legal. In San Francisco the scandal has been suppressed by those in authority for a year and a half, and it has now forced itself on public attention despite the efforts of those in authority What motives impelled the police authorities to stifle inquiry and retain on the force men suspected with good reason of being burglars and thieves can only be conjectured The fact itself is a grave reflection on the police administration of San Francisco.

The vaudeville wits of San Francisco can now take their change out of the San Francisco police. They have had their fun with Oakland long enough. Now they have bigger game at home.

The Stockton Record accuses THE TRIBUNE of dodging facts, but what facts it does not say. We presume the Record is a fact—if nothing else—and we have absuredly not dodged it. We are not informed as to just what grub is eating our Stockton contemporary, and perhaps it does not matter, but maybe proximity to the big bughouse is the cause of an irrelevant, immaterial and impertinent remark which seems to have been dictated by the spirit that prompts a small boy to throw stones at a passing traveler because he cannot think of anything better to do.

MOST AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Covering Entire Body. Shed Dustpanful Scales Nightly. Skin Cracked Open. Suffering Dreadful. Doctors Fail. Prayed for Death. Sister says, "Won't give up. Try Cuticura." Eureka! Instant Relief. In 6 Weeks Completely

CURED BY CUTICURA

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M D's. Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open I tried everything, almost that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich , where I had a sister living. One Dr. —— treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry, and lifeless as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer.

My sister, Mrs E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up, said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go They immediately got Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment, and Soap I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely, applied Cuticura Ointment morning and evening Result: returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

LABOR COUNCIL TO MEET

MATTERS MUSICAL ARE TO BE INVESTIGATED THIS EVENING.

A complete report of the differences which have existed between the Musicians' Union of Oakland and the management of the Hovey dancing hall will be made to the Executive Committee of the Central Labor Council at its meeting at 453 Eighth street tonight, and the Executive Committee will make its report on the matter to the Council next Monday evening.

B. & S. DISTRICT COUNCIL.

Boot and Shoe Workers Union No 324 of Oakland has appointed T. F. Marshall, C. W. Petry and Joe Klear its delegates to a meeting for the formation of a District Council of Boot and Shoe Workers, which is to be held soon in the city of San Francisco The council, if formed as it undoubtedly will be, will include the cities of San Francisco, Oakland and Petaluma, and possibly further territory.

CHILD LABOR.

Chief Deputy McClellan of the State Labor Commissioner's office in San Francisco, made an investigation of the Eagle Box Factory in Oakland yesterday.

AMALGAMATED CARPENTERS.

Amalgamated Carpenters, Oakland branch, at their last meeting, initiated seven members and have some twenty applications pending. Brother Charles A. Nelson, president of the San Francisco branch, was present and gave the boys a talk on the conditions of unionism and the laboring trades in general which was much appreciated

QUIT.

J A. Ingler of 420 Telegraph avenue has "thrown up" his job as janitor of the B T. C. headquarters and is "odd jobbing" on the outside.

UNFOUNDED REPORT.

The report in some of the papers of Oakland that Cooks and Waiters' Union No. 31 has moved its headquarters is unfounded It is still doing business at the old stand, 453 Eighth street, and so justly and successfully to all that practically all the restaurant employers in Oakland have signed contracts with its officers for help and good conditions for the coming year. Which will be good news to the eating public interested only in good meals and steady conditions The Restaurant and Hotel Keepers' Association, which made so much trouble early in the year, has disappeared, most of its members having signed up with Cooks and Waiters' Union No. 31

Practically the only employers not now in good standing with the union are. R. W. Merrick, Charles Scharff, Millisch & Orchum, P Kisich, Clecak & Marcovich, John Slavich, Milton Scontros and A. H. Schulze.

The officers of the Cooks and Waiters' Union, No. 31 are Henry Hollander president, and F. W. Overton secretary

ASSESSED THEMSELVES.

Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union No. 29, of San Francisco has voted to assess members 25 cents a week to aid the movement for the shorter workday, and 50 cents per month to further the same cause in the particular locality of Cincinnati

BEER.

The differences between men and managers in the breweries of the Northwestern Brewery Association have been settled except as to John Rapp & Sons, of San Francisco, bottlers of Rainier beer, who are still on the "We don't patronize list."

"BOSS" OVERALLS.

Cohn, Goldwater & Company of Los Angeles, manufacturers of "Boss" overalls, are erecting their new building with non-union labor, against the protest of the Los Angeles Building Trades Council.

THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

That the eight-hour movement to be inaugurated by the job printers throughout the country next January will be fought bitterly in Los Angeles is evidenced by the following resolutions passed by the board of directors of the Los Angeles Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association at a recent meeting

"Whereas, The International Typographical Union, through its subordinate unions, has made unjust and exorbitant demands upon the employing printers of the entire United States and,

"Whereas, the employers have declared that such demands cannot be complied with, as it would deny their right to engage independent workmen and would greatly advance the price of labor and product, and,

"Whereas, In view of these facts a strike in all the open-shop printing offices is threatened to take place on January 1st next therefore be it

"Resolved By the board of directors of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Los Angeles that the members of this association be urgently requested to support the employing printers in their business management and to refrain from enforcing contracts for printing during the anticipated strike and also to give the employers their moral support in the controversy"

WOMAN'S PAGE

SAYS HIS STRAW HAT GREW HAIR FOR HIM

SAYS STRAW HAT GREW HIS HAIR! A MESSAGE TO ALL BALDHEADS

NEW YORK, November 22.—Here is the newest Moses of them all. He speaks to all bald-headed men. He would lead them back to the happy land where hair grows in abundance on domes of thought that today are innocent of other decoration than a fine polish. He thinks the human race is fast approaching a permanent state of hairless wretchedness. At the present rate of departure there will be nothing but a race of men with shiny polls in another generation or two, if this prophet be right. He says every man in the civilized world, himself excepted, is moulting fast.

This Moses is Dr. J. Conger Bryan, of 71 West Eighty-third street. He has a radical cure for baldness, and in order to show the benefits of it he goes about the streets of the city every day with the remedy in plain sight. It is a straw hat. He playfully refers to it sometimes as "the cow's breakfast." When Dr. Bryan meets a doubter he promptly doffs his summery top piece, displays a thick head of hair that is fast turning white and says proudly:

"My straw hat grew this hair and I can prove it."

Dr. Bryan believes his remedy for baldness should be worn the year round. When the mercury crawls down around the zero mark Dr. Bryan promises to make Fifth avenue and Broadway sit up and take notice of him this winter. Even now he attracts attention from the derby-hatted populace as he strolls along the streets.

MAN FINDS HIS MISSING SISTER AFTER A SEARCH OF FIFTY YEARS

MONT CLAIR, N. J., November 22.—After a search of fifty years Thomas C. Paddock of Vernon has found his sister, who disappeared from Vernon when she was six years old.

At that time there appeared near the Paddock home a hand organ grinder with a monkey. The girl, attracted by the music, followed the organ grinder and he kidnaped her. Advertisements inserted in papers all over the country brought no tidings of the missing child, and it now turns out that she was taken West and grew up there.

She also advertised widely, and through the newspapers she found her relatives and is now en route for her former home.

Mr. Paddock, in a letter received from his sister, learned that she had married a man named Smith. Her husband and four children died twenty years ago at Silver City, N. D.

GIRL OF 14 JILTS BOY TO WED HIS FATHER; TAR AND FEATHERS ARE THREATENED

"One-Legged Teddy;" "Tar and Feather Him;" "A Disgrace to Orient;" "Where is Her Mother?" "Robbing the Cradle;" "Who Was the Minister?" "Freddie, 47; Abbie, 14."—LEGENDS ON FARMER TABOR'S BARN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Twice a widower and forty-seven years of age, Frederick Tabor won the love of his son's fourteen-year-old sweetheart, Abbie Tuthill, and married her. For that reason there is unusual excitement in the village of Orient, out on the northeastern tip of Long Island.

For a week Orient kept quiet, smothering its indigation, but all the pent-up anger of the ruralites found outlet a day or so since and expressed itself in painted characters on the two-hundred-foot barn of the groom. Here are some of the signs painted on the broad yellow boards:

"One-Legged Teddy:" "Tar and Feather Him;" "A Disgrace to Orient;" "Where Is Her Mother?" "Robbing the Cradle;" "Who Was the Minister?" "Freddie, 47; Abbie 14."

There are four children in the Tabor household, and it was Russell Tabor, seventeen years old, who had been courting Abbie Tuthill, a school girl, and planning to marry her.

Mrs. Tuthill, the mother of the bride, is a widow with several other children, and the gossips supposed Frederick Tabor intended to marry her. A fortnight ago, however, Russell Tabor suddenly left home. Still the gossips did not connect that fact with the visits of his father to the home of the Tuthills.

It all came out when the Rev. William McKnight, pastor of the Greenport Presbyterian Church, spread the information that Tabor and Abbie had requested him to make them man and wife. He refused because of the disparity in their ages.

Tabor, Mrs. Tuthill and Abbie disappeared, and when they returned, the girl as Tabor's bride, took her place at the head of the household previously occupied by Hazel Tabor, her fifteen-year-old stepdaughter. From that moment indignation began to grow.

KEPT THEIR STORY A SECRET

To the curious, Mrs. Tabor, her mother and her husband declined to give any information, and this brought from their neighbors threats of tar and feathers. An appeal was made to the school board to compel the bride's return to school under the compulsory education law, but the board found itself powerless to act.

Working at an ironing board in the Tabor home, her sleeves rolled above her plump elbows, the bride was found by a reporter.

"No, we don't know who put the signs on the barn," she said, smiling, "and we don't care. It's nobody's business who married us and where we went. I never intended to marry Russell Tabor. He's only a boy."

WERE MARRIED IN MANHATTAN.

"Abbie and Mr. Tabor were married by the Rev. Edwin W. Caswell, minister of the Beekman Hill Methodist Episcopal Church, at 319 East Fiftieth street, New York," declared Mrs. Tuthill. "I don't see that it's anybody's business who married them or where the ceremony was performed," she added. "I gave my daughter away. Mr. Tabor is a good man and a good provider, and that's all there is to it."

"Those signs may rot off the barn for all I care," said Tabor. "Whoever put them there has had his work for nothing as far as I am concerned."

Russell Tabor said he did not care anything about the affair, but admitted that he had been attentive to his pretty stepmother.

CHARITY MUSICALE.

The Alameda Women's Charitable Association, a non-sectarian benevolent organization, announces a musicale to take place next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward J. Dodge on Alameda avenue. The affair is for the Christmas hamper fund to provide good things for those who can ill afford Christmas necessities.

Miss Blanche Tisdale has charge of the music for the day and among the musicians who will join in giving a most promising program are Miss Marion Coyle, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Mace Thompson of San Francisco, Miss Tisdale and Horatio Cogswell, vocalists; Miss Helen Sutphen and Miss Martha Snow, violinists, and Miss Winifred Mastick, pianist.

The program will be equally divided, half in the afternoon and half in the evening. With the matinee recital tea will be served and a cup of coffee may be enjoyed at the later event.

A score or more of women prominent in Alameda society are interested, among them being Mrs. S. A. O'Neill and Mrs. R. W. McChesney, well known here in Fabiola work.

ANNUAL BALL.

The members of Company A, Fifth Infantry, N. G. C., are making elaborate preparations for their forty-fourth annual ball to be given Thanksgiving eve at the new armory on Twenty-fourth street near Telegraph avenue. The armory is a splendid structure, with drill hall finished in hard maple and old oak in colonial style. The parlors, officers' quarters and locker rooms are handsomely appointed.

Invitations have been sent to Governor Pardee and to Adjutant-General J. B. Lauck, both of whom are members of the company. Neither effort nor expense have been spared to make the ball a great success. The committees include: Annual party committee—Lieutenant L. C. Francis, chairman; Sergeant A. J. Wagner, secretary; T. L. Bolton, assistant secretary; Lieutenant M. Herman, Sergeant C. Smith, Sergeant A. Boas, Corporal A. Jones, Corporal H. B. Ongerth, Corporal G. Brown, Corporal C. Cunningham, Musician R. King, L. S. Hamlin, J. Bowden, J. A. Yerick and C. Harvey.

Reception—Captain F. W. Petersen, Lieutenant L. C. Francis, Lieutenant M. Herman and Sergeant C. H. Ellis.

Floor—Lieutenant L. C. Francis, floor director; Lieutenant M. Herman, assistant director; E. R. Lamb, chief aid; Sergeant A. J. Wagner, Corporal C. Cunningham, Corporal George Brown, L. S. Hamlin and J. A. Yerick, aids.

Decorating—Lieutenant M. Herman (chairman), Sergeant A. Boas, Corporal G. Brown, Corporal H. B. Ongerth and L. S. Hamlin.

Refreshment—Corporal H. B. Onerth (chairman), Corporal C. Cunningham, J. Bowden, T. L. Bolton and C. Harvey.

Printing—T. L. Bolton (chairman), Sergeant A. Boas and L. S. Hamlin.

Press—L. S. Hamlin and J. Bowen.

While the great majority of women have neither the facilities nor the time to take a full bath every day, nearly all can take a sponge bath, which is all that is necessary for cleanliness. A basin, a sponge and a cork mat comprise the essentials, and five minutes' application a day will keep the pores of the skin open and the body in a healthy condition. Some people require more bathing than others. Brunettes, as a class, and fat people in particular, are apt to need more baths and lotions to dispel the secretions and perspiration that defile the skin. In order to live up to the ideal, a woman should be exquisitely and habitually clean, and rather overstep than fall short of the so-called hygienic standard. It is advisable to be suspicious of neatness, if necessary, in order to perfect it.

WOMAN TEACHERS WED TO MINERS SOON AS THEY ARE IMPORTED

RENO, Nev., November 22.—So many women teachers have recently married in Nevada that the educational work of the State is seriously threatened.

Most of the teachers come from the East, and as a rule they are young and pretty. Nevada has always had a surplus of men, so it is little wonder that after a few months the young women succumb to ardent wooers.

Large salaries are offered and hundreds of teachers have been imported, but they soon resign, and the superintendent of schools is debating whether he is not conducting a matrimonial agency for the young miners of Nevada.

In Humboldt county the schools of one district are all closed, and in Elko, Eureka and White Pine counties similar conditions exist. There were a few women teachers around Goldfield and Tonopah, but they are no more. Several are married to very wealthy men.

Nevada has a State university, but this institution has not been able to turn out sufficient teachers to supply the demand.

BRIDAL LORE

(From the Chicago News)

A JANUARY BRIDE WILL BE A PRUDENT HOUSEKEEPER AND VERY GOOD TEMPERED.

A FEBRUARY BRIDE WILL BE A HUMANE AND AFFECTIONATE WIFE AND TENDER MOTHER.

A MARCH BRIDE WILL BE A FRIVOLOUS CHATTERBOX, SOMEWHAT GIVEN TO QUARRELING.

AN APRIL BRIDE WILL BE INCONSTANT, NOT VERY INTELLIGENT, BUT FAIRLY GOOD LOOKING.

A MAY BRIDE WILL BE HANDSOME, AMIABLE, AND LIKELY TO BE HAPPY.

A JUNE BRIDE WILL BE IMPETUOUS AND GENEROUS.

A JULY BRIDE WILL BE HANDSOME AND SMART, BUT A TRIFLE QUICK-TEMPERED.

AN AUGUST BRIDE WILL BE AMIABLE AND PRACTICAL.

A SEPTEMBER BRIDE WILL BE DISCREET, AFFABLE AND MUCH LIKED.

AN OCTOBER BRIDE WILL BE PRETTY, COQUETTISH, LOVING, BUT JEALOUS.

A NOVEMBER BRIDE WILL BE LIBERAL, KIND, BUT OF A WILD DISPOSITION.

A DECEMBER BRIDE WILL BE WELL PROPORTIONED, FOND OF NOVELTY, ENTERTAINING, BUT EXTRAVAGANT.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND WISHED HER TO BE FOUND WITH RIVAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—"I will kill my baby rather than let that man have her, and I will prove that he knew Robert Findlay and that he arranged with me to catch me in Findlay's company in order that we might get the divorce we both wanted," was the sensational explanation made by Mrs. Florence Botham, wife of Ralph W. Botham, when her husband brought suit on what he discovered when he broke into a room at the Union Square Hotel.

"My wife tells a falsehood when she says that I was a party to her going to the Union Square Hotel with Findlay," said Botham.

The couple lived at 790 Washington avenue, Brooklyn, and the husband is attached to the legal department of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company. He followed his wife, he says, on the word of two friends that she had gone to the Union Square Hotel and engaged a room there.

Mrs. Botham was seen by a reporter last evening and asked if she had arranged with her husband to go to the hotel with Findlay. She said she had. She was then asked if a date had been set and she replied that none had, but that she knew her husband had her shadowed and that he would find her there when she went.

The husband denies this unqualifiedly.

Mrs. Botham was Miss Florence Bradley before her marriage and has been married to Mr. Botham four years. Findlay lived at 824 Washington avenue, Brooklyn, within a block of the Bothams, and had known Mrs. Botham in Putnam, Conn., where she had been a teacher in a Congregational Sunday school.

Each is determined to fight to the end, and Mrs. Botham has retained Beard & Parrott, of Manhattan, to defend her case.

TWISTS HER OWN NECK IN A DREAM

PAWTUCKET, R. I., November 22.—Awakening from a frightful dream, in which she was struggling with a monstrous creature, Miss Frances Robinson discovered, to her added horror, that her head was turned, immovably, over her right shoulder.

At the instant, too, the girl, who is twenty years old, felt agonizing pain in her shoulder and back. Her cries aroused her family, who suspecting that she had a sudden attack of neuralgia or rheumatism, applied domestic remedies in the hope of relieving her.

Miss Robinson's suffering and dread increased, for she could not turn her head again into its natural position. Dr. Joseph E. Duxbury was called to her home, 34 Parker street, Central Falls. The doctor found that, in the struggle of her dream, the young woman had twisted her head so suddenly and violently that she had dislocated one of the [illegible] of her spinal column—a cervical vertebra—one in her neck.

Dr. Duxbury told Miss Robinson's family that he must try immediately to reduce the dislocation, to set the bone in its place. He warned the family that the operation was as dangerous as delicate and that should the vertebra, in the attempt to replace it, press on the girl's spinal cord, paralysis certainly, and death possibly, would follow.

Miss Robinson eagerly consented. The doctor, using some force, overcame the distorted muscles in his patient's neck, and with a "click" the bone slipped into its place. The girl has recovered save that her neck is sore," she complains.

Dr. Duxbury says the [illegible] contain many cases of vertebrae dislocated by violence, [illegible]

RHEUMATISM

RELIEVING THE PAIN IS NOT CURING THE DISEASE.

No class of sufferers are subjected to such torture as are those afflicted with Rheumatism. When this disease becomes intrenched in the blood it seems to affect every part of the body with its sharp, shooting pains and other disagreeable symptoms. The nerves sting, the muscles throb and jerk, the joints inflame and swell, the bones ache and the flesh becomes so swollen and tender that to touch it causes the most intense pain.

When the sufferer is in this condition relief must be had at once, and any treatment that will ease the pain and suffering is used. Plasters, fiery liniments, penetrating oils, etc., are applied and often medicines containing morphine or other destructive opiates are taken internally. But relieving the pain is not curing the disease, and at the first exposure to cool or damp weather or slight attack of indigestion the pains and aches will return.

The aches and pains are only symptoms which you may scatter with plasters, liniments, blisters etc, or quiet with opiates, but the real seat of the disease is in the blood, and until this vital stream is cleansed of the acids and poisons and strengthened and built up, Rheumatism cannot be cured. The sufferer is wasting valuable time applying external treatment, or using soothing drugs, because the longer the poisons remain in the blood the firmer hold the trouble gets on the system, and often the most pernicious drug habits are formed through the use of medicines containing opiates or anodynes, and the victim finds himself a complete slave who must either suffer constant torture or be kept under the influence of a narcotic.

I had Rheumatism so I could scarcely get about, and I suffered agony with the pain in muscles and joints. I used all the liniments and such treatment I heard of but the disease would always return I began S S. S, and took several bottles and it entirely cured me. This was 18 years ago and I have never had any return of the trouble. I am now strong and healthy.
116 Evans Ave, Evansville, Ind A. P SCHRADER.

The cause of Rheumatism is a too acid condition of the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak kidneys, torpid liver and a general sluggish condition of the system. All food taken into the body contains, in some form, the elements necessary to sustain the different parts. One portion is used for making blood, another for bone, another for fat and so on. After these different properties are extracted there still remains a portion that is useless, or waste matter which is intended to be thrown off by nature, but this sluggish, weak condition of the system interferes with its proper action and the waste matter is left to sour and form uric acid and other poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

When the poison of Rheumatism is in the blood all kinds of complications may be looked for. As the disease progresses the joints become coated with a gritty, corrosive substance which seriously interferes with their working and movements, and sometimes they become permanently stiff and useless, the general health is affected, the heart is also often attacked, resulting in palpitation, and sometimes death.

S. S. S. is a safe, reliable treatment for Rheumatism. This great medicine is made of roots, herbs and barks of the forests and fields selected for their purifying and building up properties. It does not contain a particle of mineral of any kind, nor the slightest trace of opiate in any form. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by going down into the blood and attacking the disease at its head. It neutralizes the poisons and acids and dissolves the salts and irritating deposits, making the blood stream pure, strong and fresh. When the blood has been purified and built up by S S. S. the pains and aches of Rheumatism pass away, the muscles become soft and elastic again, the joints regain their natural action, every symptom of the disease is removed, and the cure made permanent. DRASTIC ACTION WILL BE TAKEN

CHICAGO November 22—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, D C, says

Officials here were considerably concerned last night over reports of a revolutionary outbreak in Panama

The State and War Departments claimed to be without confirmation but Senor Obadiah the Panamaian minister, had heard something which he did not feel authorized in making public, because later information might clear up the situation

L. H. Farnham of counsel for the Panama legation said last night that if there is a revolution that it is the work of a few hot heads

"The leaders of the revolutionary party" he continued "are Pablo Arosemena and Dr Morales and if they should succeed in getting control of the government they would be able to administer it as satisfactory as any persons in the republic But I am quite confident the authorities will be able to quell any disturbance that may occur"

The instructions of Governor Magoon authorize him to take such measures for the protection of American life and property as he may deem necessary There are marines on the Isthmus, and he may employ them if he considers their services desirable

The President it can be said, has no intention of permitting Panama to develop into a chronically revolutionary republic, like Colombia for example Such a condition would be prejudicial to the United States and would hamper the American authorities in construction of the canal

In case a revolution has occurred, it may be expected that when conditions arise necessitating it, drastic action will be taken The character of this action has not been determined and it will not be until all the facts in connection with the reported outbreak are at hand

BIG BATTLE FOR A MAIL CONTRACT

CHICAGO November 22—Fighting to secure a big mail contract between Kansas City and Los Angeles the Santa Fe and Rock Island roads started in on a speed war at the beginning of this week The spoil of the war is a contract worth $250 000 a year, to carry the mail between Kansas City and Southern California

The profits of this contract will be equal to almost the entire sum received because both roads have to carry mail cars on their California limited trains to accommodate the local mails, and the through mail will amount to but ten or twelve tons a day Already both roads have reduced the running time between Kansas City and the coast from thirty to forty-five minutes and it is probable that before long faster time will be made

The new time card which took effect November 12 schedules the Santa Fe's California train for thirty minutes shorter time between Kansas City and Los Angeles than heretofore and to meet this the Rock Island's train is being run as a special at a forty-five minutes reduction in time This reduction will become permanent when the Rock Island's new time card goes into effect November 26

"BACK TO NATURE" PREACHER IS DEAD.

CHICAGO, Nov 22—Unable to retain nourishment due to long periods of fasting, John Kleinst, the back to nature preacher, died yesterday

Kleinst, who was 50 years old had traveled all over the country on foot wearing only sandals and clad in the thinnest and coarsest garments When he did not fast he lived on roots and herbs One of his beliefs was that the day of judgment was at hand, and frequently he would stop persons on the street and with uplifted fingers warn them to prepare for the last day

He wore no underclothing and for a few months he was a familiar figure in the down-town streets, in which he sold pamphlets advocating his ideas of getting back to nature

NEW RAILROAD

PORTLAND Oregon, Nov. 22—Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Portland-Oregon Seacoast Railroad Company which proposes to built a network of roads through the Northwestern counties of this State besides a line to follow the sea coast from Portland to Eureka, Cal, where it will join the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. The road from Eureka according to the articles of incorporation, will take a southwesterly course to the mouth of the Nestucca River, where it will turn southward Another line is projected to take a westerly course from Portland to Tillamook and thence southward to Nestucca From this line a branch will be constructed northward from a point in the Nehalem Valley to Astoria It is the intention to connect by a belt line the two main lines which enter Portland from different directions The incorporators are local capitalists

FOR A CLOSE SEASON

VICTORIA B C Nov 22—At the sitting of the Dominion Fisheries Commission yesterday it was stated that as the Washington canners had refused to maintain a close season in 1906 the British Columbia canners would not do so Negotiations will probably be made to arrange a joint closed season for 1908 Canners who gave the evidence objected to joint control of the hatcheries on the Frazer River, stating the Canadian government could maintain them alone Many restrictions tending to improve the industry were suggested

INDIANS SORROWING

VICTORIA B C Nov 22—The Indians of Neuschatalitz are holding a sorrow dance in which the women scratch their cheeks and breasts until blood is drawn to mourn for the Indian hunters of the overdue sealing schooner Fawn believed to have foundered enroute home from Behring Sea There were six white men and twenty-one Indians on the sealing vessel

'BE SOBER'

Says President Roosevelt

"It is of incalculable consequence to the man himself that he should be sober and temperate, and it is of even more consequence to his wife and his children for it is a hard and cruel fact that in this life of ours the sins of the man are often visited most heavily upon those whose welfare should be his one special care"—President Roosevelt to the Miners at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

WILL ADDRESS A CONVENTION

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE TO GATHER CERTAIN DATA FOR MAYOR MOTT.

Mayor Mott is to deliver an address before a convention at Santa Barbara on December 16 and the following communication addressed to the Merchants Exchange was read before a meeting of that body last night

"Wilber Walker, Esq, Sec'y Merchants Exchange, Oakland, Calif—Dear Sir Mayor Frank K. Mott of Oakland has kindly consented to deliver an address at the counties committee meeting of the California Promotion Committee, to be held at Santa Barbara, December 16.

"His subject will be 'How the Federal Government can assist San Francisco Bay Counties' Will you kindly notify me at your earliest convenience the need of your section for United States Government aid?

"We are anxious to secure this data as soon as possible that we may embody it in the speech to be made by Mayor Mott Very respectfully,

"EDWIN STEARNS,
"Secretary Oakland Board of Trade

It was stated that the desired information would be gathered as soon as possible

TO GIVE SMOKER.

A smoker to be given by the Exchange next Friday night, it was reported by Director Downey, promises to eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted by the organization before The talent engaged, he says, is exceptional while there will be good cheer for all A committee composed of Directors Crowley, Jonas, Sinclair Walker and Schlueter was appointed to receive the guests

ELECT MEMBER.

Notice was given that L. M Cobbledick had applied for membership to the Exchange, and upon motion the rules were suspended and he was unanimously elected a member

STORE EXHIBIT.

A report was made by Secretary Walker to the effect that the Alameda county exhibit that has done duty at the St Louis and Portland expositions has been returned and is now being set up in a store on Broadway, near Twenty-first where it is expected it will make an interesting and instructive exhibit of the products of Alameda county

TO CONTINUE BROADWAY.

Director Sohst, as chairman of a committee appointed for the extending of Broadway straight out to the Berkeley hills, reported that he had been over the ground, and that it promises to be one of the prettiest drives in the county, and would be a direct road to Contra Costa county and the tunnel He made the request that the secretary make an engagement for the entire committee to go out some day this week and view the proposed road

He expressed it as his opinion that the movement was one the Exchange should get behind as the extension beyond College avenue, he believed, was a public necessity

WATER APPROPRIATION.

Secretary Walker made a report for the committee appointed to investigate the absorption of the country about the Niles canyon by the Spring Valley Water Company and asked for further time He stated that the committee had a man at work at present gathering data and that he committee hoped that when this was complete that they would have some tangible results of their work

Repeating former statements made on this subject, he said that the absorption of the country for a watershed had resulted in the lapsing of two school districts with two more ready to go the same way. He thought it a poor showing for the county to allow hundreds of acres of valuable land where settlers might make homes, to be depopulated for such a purpose.

Director Hoffman said that he thought there must be some law in equity that would bar one county from taking the land and water of another

FORTUNE MAY GO TO POLICEMAN

JERSEY CITY N J Nov 22—The Western Express on the Pennsylvania Railroad left here last night carrying as a passenger George Stratford a Jersey City policeman who two hours before train time gave up $83 33 a month to go to Los Angeles, Cal, on the summons of an uncle, bent, it is said, on distributing a fortune of many millions among his prospective heirs before his death Stratford's uncle is Thomas Critchelow an Englishman who, fifteen years ago, invented a means of saving fuel in firing locomotives, and amassed a fortune He then began a search for living relatives He crossed the Atlantic eighteen times in search of a sister who was in search of him She found him through a newspaper advertisement and told him of his two nephews, George and Edward Stratford. He invited them to visit them George went, returned to Jersey City on Monday, resigned and is returning to his uncle.

AT THE PENNSYLVANIA PASSENGER OFFICE

At 621 Market street, San Francisco, one can learn all about the exceptional travel facilities offered by the Pennsylvania System to Pittsburg, Philadelphia, New York, and other eastern points. Mr. H. A. Buck is the general agent.

INSPECT YARDS OF RAILWAY

SANTA FE OFFICIALS SPEND AN HOUR ABOUT POINT RICHMOND.

POINT RICHMOND, November 22—A special train of five private cars bearing the general officers of the Santa Fe system arrived in Richmond from the East yesterday afternoon They were switched over to the Richmond Belt Line and were taken around the peninsula where they spent an hour

In the party were President E P Ripley Second Vice-President J C Kendrick General Manager J C Hibbard Trainmaster C H Tuttle and Division Superintendent J W Walker

Returning from the Belt Line trip they walked through the yards and shops and at a later hour went over to the city on the San Pablo

Whether this visit has any significance beyond a superficial inspection is difficult to say The fact that the big smelter is depending on the railroads for a guarantee of 1000 tons of ore daily which would mean fifty car loads a day, may have created a desire on the part of the officials to see the lay of the land where the smelter is to be located. Then, again it may be possible that the extension of the Belt Line to the new can factory of the P C O Company, now in course of erection, may figure in the visit of these high officials to San Pablo point

TWIN SULLIVAN LOOKS GOOD TO JACK O'BRIEN

WHAT "PHILADELPHIA" JACK O'BRIEN THINKS OF THE COMING BATTLE

"Mike Sullivan and Jimmy Gardner are the two best boys in the country today and I look to see a grand battle. Sullivan is the cleverest and has the best head and if the contest goes the limit, and it looks that it will, I think his chances of winning are the better; while should there be a knock-out, I believe Gardner will score it. Sullivan has never been whipped, while Jack Blackburn has a win over Gardner and Blackburn fell before Sullivan. It is an even fight and the betting should not favor either."

DAL HAWKINS MAY FIGHT ABE ATTELL IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—There is a strong probability that two of the best American fighters in their class in the country, Abe Attell and Dal Hawkins, will battle in England with two of the best men in the United Kingdom, and that the fights will be held within a week of each other.

Billy Day, who, with Frankie Dwyer, manages Attell and Hawkins, will leave tomorrow on the Baltic to make the matches. The Attell fight is as good as arranged already, but nothing definite has been decided on regarding the Hawkins bout.

Attell is to fight Jem Bowker, the British champion, early in January. A deal was made when the little fellow was in London last summer that he was to get a match with the winner of the Bowker-Robson go, which was held several weeks ago in London, and in which Bowker got the decision by a narrow margin.

In the meantime, however, Bowker fell in love, got married, and, with more sentiment than the average mitt artist usually shows, announced straightway that he would not fight during his honeymoon, as he didn't want to dispel the illusion in his wife's eyes by having his nose broken or his lamp closed up so soon after the tying of the nuptial knot. He wrote that he would be glad to meet Able after the first of the year, and it is to make arrangements for this that Day leaves tomorrow.

HAWKINS VS. WHITE.

Dal Hawkins wants a fight with Jabez White, who came to these shores and was defeated by Jimmy Britt some months ago. The chances are that the match will be made. White, who is a quiet, well behaved little fellow and made a fine impression when he was over, is very popular in England and is always a great drawing card. A fight there with an American would be certain to attract a large attendance.

Seattle took the game from Oakland at Idora Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 8 to 5, although the Commuters outbatted their opponents.

The scoring began in the first, when Kane took first on balls and went home on Devereaux's bad throw of Walter's grounder. Walters scored on Frary's two-bagger.

In the second Kelly made a two-bagger and went home when Devereaux followed with another. Bennett made one in the third on Van Haltren's error. In the fifth both sides made two. Oakland made another in the seventh. Seattle scored one in the eighth and two in the ninth. Oakland also made one in the ninth just before the close of the game. The score:

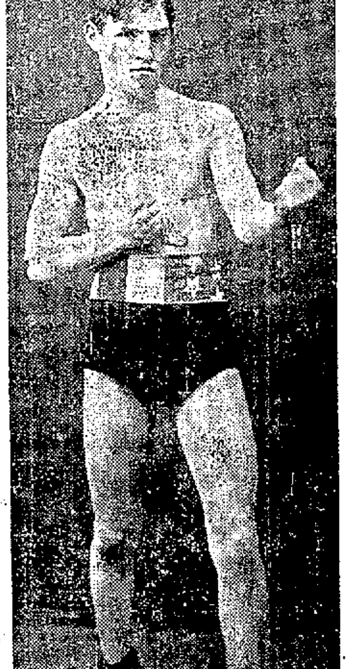
CALIFORNIA IS CHOSEN FOR MEETING

At a meeting held Monday night by the National Educational Association, the executive committee, through its president, N. C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania, has accepted the invitation tendered by California to hold its next annual convention in San Francisco, July 9 to 13, 1906. The convention of the National Educational Association which was held in Los Angeles some years ago, was the most successful in numbers and interest of any convention ever held by the association, 10,000 members crossing the continent to attend the meeting. The meeting of this convention in San Francisco next year will mean much for California in more ways than one.

CROWE MEETS SNAILHAM TONIGHT



JOHNNY CROWE.

SACRAMENTO, November 22.—One of the most interesting fistic events that has taken place for some time will be witnessed tonight when Johnny Crowe and Billy Snailham come together before the Yosemite Club for the featherweight championship of the coast.

The reports from both training camps are that the boys are in fine condition. Joe Gans, the lightweight champion, who has charge of Crowe's work, says that his man is within reach of the required weight, 124 pounds, and is confident that he will come out on the long end.

Snailham is well known in Sacramento, having fought there before. Crowe is not so well known, but he comes well recommended.

Manager Bert Murphy has received a number of orders for seats from San Francisco, which assures him that a number of the San Francisco sports will be present to witness the fight.

Before the contest Jack McDonald and Jockey Bennet will fight a ten-round preliminary.

BICYCLE RIDER IS BADLY HURT

C. O. Evans, of the Kiel & Evans Carriage Company, met with a painful accident yesterday morning, in which he suffered a dislocated hip and painful briuses. While riding his bicycle, he came in collision with another party on a wheel at the corner of Twenty-fourth street, and Telegraph avenue, resulting in a bad mix up in which Mr. Evans received the injuries mentioned. The man riding the other bicycle hurriedly rode off and he is unknown. Mr. Evans was removed to his home on Sixty-second street, where he is receiving medical attendance.

BEARCATCHER WINS PURSE EVENT BUT TIME ISN'T FAST

HERE'S SOME LIVE TURF GOSSIP

ABOUT EVENTS ON LOCAL TRACK

JOCKEYS REED AND WRIGHT.

Six heavily backed favorites came home in front at Emeryville yesterday, and four second choices ran as played. What a rubbing the bookies did get. It was a bad lot that paraded to the post in the first race, and Twin Foot was rated the best thing of the day. Lady Mirthful started to make the running but when Knapp let out a wrap on the favorite it was all over but the shouting. The Lady was seven lengths in front of Doctor Roberts' for the place.

* * *

F. E. Shaw spreadeagled his field in the second race and won easily. This makes the third straight win for O. A. Blanchis clever son of Magnet, but he may never race again, as he pulled up lame after the race, and his owner fears he has broken down. The horse was in great fettle and the misfortune is to be regretted. Gateway showed plenty of speed and handily wore down Toupee for the place.

* * *

Dick Williams chestnut filly Silver Sue finally made good, as the third event for two-year-old fillies was merely an exercise gallop for her. Jillette was away in front and set the pace, but Aubuchen lay in a nice position with the winner and when ready passed the pacemaker and easily outfooted him to the wire. Succeed had no trouble in getting show money.

* * *

The once mighty Bearcatcher redeemed himself by winning the purse race from a select field of handicap horses. It was a popular victory, for when the brown horse returned to the stand, he was given quite an ovation. The race was run just to suit him, being allowed to make his own pace, and he won from wire to wire unextended. Rightful was given a miserable ride, and was an easy second from Haviland. The latter was kicked at the post and ran a remarkable race.

* * *

Ed Lilburn is in great form at present. He outclassed his field, in the fifth race, and simply tincanned home all the way, winning by four lengths. San Primo ran a creditable race and took second money from Potrero Grande.

* * *

When "big Bill" Knapp let out a link on Byronerdale in the last, he ran over Blissful, winning unextended. Blissful had lots of speed, but could not stall the winner's rush at the finish. Flaunt held the others safe for the show.

S. M. Williams will ship his string from Oakland in time for the opening at Ascot Park.

* * *

Jocund and Arklirta will be horses likely to rank as stars among the best performers at Ascot Park next winter.

* * *

W. J. Spiers will race at Ascot Park this winter a string of good ones, including Santello, Manera, Vindicta, Rodolfo, El Verraco, Escalante, Huachucha and three others.

* * *

W. O'B. Macdonough says that Ormondale will be raced in the East for several years, as he is well equipped with Ormonde stallions at his Menlo Park ranch at the present time.

* * *

Bookmaker H. S. Stevens is a late arrival from the Middle West. Mr. Stevens run up a shoestring into a tan yard a few years ago at Oakland.

* * *

F. A. Myer, a noted New York horseman, arrived last night on the overland.

* * *

Jockey Joe Powell, who buried his wife recently at Oregon City, made his appearance at the track.

* * *

A. D. Harrison with S. S. Brown's cast-off Belvoir, two jumpers belonging to a Mr. Raffles of New York, F. E. Baird's Bailey, Freesias and Dan Collins are among the recent arrivals at Ascot.

* * *

Laura F. M. has been taken off the schooling list and E. C. Runte and Instrument added.

A story is in circulation here that the New York Jockey Club will make an effort to have the State racing law so amended as to permit of betting by the French mutual machines and to do away with bookmaking. The rumor is ridiculed by the bookmakers and it is not confirmed by any of the stewards of the Jockey Club.

William S. Fanshawe of New York City has purchased the Lucien O. Appleby stock farm at Shrewsbury. This farm was until a month ago leased by Clarence H. Mackay, who recently moved his blooded stock to Kentucky. Mr. Mackay desired to renew his lease, but Mr. Appleby wished to sell. There are box stalls on the property for 100 horses.

IF FITZSIMMONS-O'BRIEN FIGHT IS ON THE LEVEL AND GOES LIMIT, ROBERT WILL LOSE, SAYS HART

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22.—Marvin Hart, heavyweight champion of the world, like that illustrious mitt artist James J. Jeffries, who transferred his title to the "marvelous one" when he retired from the ring, likes a hunt.

While the sporting world wonders what has become of Hart and cannot understand why he does not do some fighting, the Kentuckian is having a good time in the sagebrush in the vicinity of Jeffersontown, the home of "Marse" Henry Watterson, the editor, and at High Grove, as the guest of John Stallards, who has birds in abundance on his farm, and never until he gave Hart permission to hunt on his premises allowed a hunter on his estate.

GIVES A DINNER.

Marvin gave a 'possum dinner last night at his home, thirteen miles from Louisville on the Bardstown pike, and all of the neighbors were the guests of the pugilist and his pretty wife. The game law "is out" and the heavyweight, accompanied by John E. Moeller, Ollie Barmore and Al Flniaux, friends from Louisville, took to the woods armed with guns and followed by half a dozen dogs. The hunt will last for nearly a week.

Hart assisted his wife in preparing the feast, which consisted mainly of five 'possums and fourteen fried chickens. A great pile of sweet potatoes served as the principal table decoration.

"Marvelous" himself donned an apron and played the role of waiter.

During the evening Hart gave out the following interview:

"I ame ready to fight any man in the world, barring negroes, any time the right inducements are offered. The reason I have not fought since I whipped Jack Root at Reno, Nev., July 3 last, is a personal matter. I wanted to rest, and I have had a good time this summer and fall and am in better condition today than ever before. I can defeat any pugilist in the world today. I have said it before, and I mean it. Jeffries or anybody else can get a fight from me. I'll make some of them jump out of the ring, too. This sounds big, but I'll make good.

"Now about Gus Ruhlin. Ruhlin is such a quiet fellow that it is hard for me to believe that he is making all this talk about claiming the championship if somebody does not fight him in six weeks.

"Let me tell you something about Ruhlin. I have defeated him twice. In the first contest we had in Philadelphia he led at me just twice. In the fourth round I flattened Ruhlin. The referee counted eight, and at the count of nine I started to my corner. Jack McCormick, at that time my manager and trainer, said to me: 'He's quitting.' Billy Madden yelled three times to Ruhlin to fight.

AS TO MR. RUHLIN.

"A month after Ruhlin and I fought in Philadelphia, and later we met a second time in Baltimore. Ruhlin was to have fought me in Chicago before I boxed Jack Johnson in San Francisco. Jack Curley was about to make the match, but Ruhlin backed down. Now, if any club will stand for a fight between Ruhlin and myself I will gladly fight him, provided enough money is in sight. Of course, I am after the money.

"I regret that I did not get on a match with Bob Fitzsimmons. I can beat him in fifteen rounds, and I can whip Jack O'Brien in the same number of rounds.

"If the fight between Fitz and O'Brien is on the level and it goes the limit Fitz will lose."

Hart has received a letter written from Al Kaufmann in Alameda, Cal.

"Friend Marvin," writes Al, "a San Francisco paper quoted me as saying that I could beat you in two rounds and that I wanted a chance to get Jeffries into the ring. The article is a rank fake. I never mentioned your name or Jeff's either to anyone except in a friendly way, and if I thought I could beat you I would never say so. I have contradicted the articles. With best wishes, I remain,

Yours,

"AL KAUFMANN."

HART OFF TO MICHIGAN.

After Hart concludes his hunting trip he is going at once to Benton Harbor, Mich., to go into training under Tommy Ryan and prepare for a fight. In the event no match can be secured, Hart says he will go with a vaudeville show and do a boxing stunt.

After two years' work Hart yesterday landed his brother, Sam Hart, on the Louisville police force. Sam is 6 feet 3 inches tall and was formerly a cop.

STRIPED BASS FISHING GOOD

Anglers who have a penchant for striped bass fishing are at present enjoying the acme of sport on the well-known San Antonio slough, which meanders through the Petaluma marshes. During the past month, in addition to the ark Cuckoo, which is owned by the Anglers' Club, and the sloop Hudson, which is the property of the Hooligan Anglers' Club, two arks and two sloops have anchored in the slough within each reach of San Antonio station, which is on the line of the California Northwestern Railroad, and distant about seven miles south of Petaluma.

Large numbers of heavy-weight bass have been brought to gaff within the past three weeks. Some have been caught on the trolling spoon, but the killing lure is the mud clam, which is the only bait discovered by local anglers that has proven acceptable to king bass.

Among the clam slingers who are responsible for the capture of weighty fish during the past few weeks are James Thomson, who lost an immense bass recently, which escaped after a struggle lasting thirty minutes with hook and part of the leader, which was cut by the teeth of the fish, ten bass, weight eighty-four pounds; Peter Ashcroft, twenty fish, weigh 150 pounds; Al Cumming, several fish, total weight something over 500 pounds. For the number of bass taken this year from the slough in question by anglers, Cummings is far in the lead of his brother bass catchers. Fine catches have been made within the past ten days by W. R. McFarland, Jack Sammi, Fred Bend, little Billy Hillegass, Sam Wells, Will Burlingame, Nat Mead, C. B. Hollywood, W. Johnson, Frank Marcus, Mr. Church, Charles Miller, Jabez Swan, J. Stevens, W. S. Kittle, Duncan Harrisson, Billy Street, Bert Spring, James Watt, Professor Pincus and others.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption.

"We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him.

"That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Wishart's drug store, corner Tenth and Washington Sts.

It will have to be admitted that Philadelphia was wide awake at the time it happened.—Chicago Record-Herald.

FIELD TRIALS IS WON BY HARPER

RUTHVEN, Ont., Nov. 22.—The Derby in the field trials was finished yesterday and was won by Harper (Prince Rodney-Countess Beatrice) owned by John Puddicombe of Rothwell, Ont. The second prize was won by Atlanta, owned by Dr. Campeau of Harrow, Ont., and third by Lady Gay Rodfield, owned by George Dale of Petrolia, Ont.

NELSON MAY FIGHT 20 ROUNDS WITH TERRY M'GOVERN

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The prospects appear bright for Battling Nelson's next fight being in the East, for twenty rounds, and in a place the Broadway sports can reach without having to travel a thousand miles.

In that place is the recently organized Tuxedo Club, of which Tom O'Rourke is the manager, in Delaware county, Pa., a few minutes out from Philadelphia.

Billy Nolan, the Dane's manager, had a conference with O'Rourke and told him, as he told the writer, that he liked the idea of fighting before the Tuxedo Club.

"If it's to be as large as you say it is," he told O'Rourke, "it will be the goods, all right, and will suit us."

The clubhouse is now in process of construction, and, according to reports, it is to be a whopper. It will seat 5350 persons, and there will be room for over 1000 more standing. The expectations at present are to hold the first fight there within five weeks, and the management is naturally very anxious to get the match between Nelson and McGovern, if there is any chance of the Dane meeting the Terrible.

MAY FIGHT GARDNER.

"There is a strong probability," says Nolan, "that Jimmy Gardner, as I have already stated on several previous occasions, will be the next man we stack up against. I like Jimmy and have a high opinion of his ability as a fighter, and so has Bat. We could get a great big house out West with Gardner, and as far as that goes we could in the East also if there is a place around here where we could accommodate the crowds.

"As to all this knocking, you can just put it down to the fellows who own the pictures—one little sporting clique in Frisco. But the best evidence that we were in the right in all that muddle out there is that we have the public with us solid. Every day I get letters and telegrams asking us when we are coming back and get a match on. I know all about this knocking, and I'll tell you why it is.

"They have an organization out there that was so strong that they thought nothing could break it, but I bested 'em, and why wouldn't they be sore? They've tried to do me every way. They made Nelson pay the entire fee of $1000 for the referee and we have never got the $5000 for the pictures, so you see we're out about $5000 on that fight.

AS TO MR. JEFFRIES.

"As to Jeffries—he's just a big, goodnatured fellow that was spoiled by his associations. Why, I bet $500—and, of course, lost it—that Bat would be the favorite in the betting if Jeffries refereed, and to show you how things were stacked up, the first man who jumped into the ring and insisted that all bets be declared off when they put Graney in was little Willus Britt."

"How about Nelson's engagement?" Nolan was asked.

"Oh, that was just a yarn," he said. "I don't know how it started—but it got out in Cincinnati. There's nothing in it at all."

DAL HAWKINS.

"So no use," said Dal Hawkins, the morning after his return from Philadelphia, where he was vanquished the night before by Unk Russell; "us old fellows can't come back. Too many have tried it and failed, and I hadn't no business thinking I could be better'n them."

Dal, by the way, was not really knocked out. He just fell down from sheer exhaustion and stayed there. Not that he wasn't game and didn't stick to the limit—everybody who saw the bout agrees to that—but he had just gone one time too many, and there was nothing doing for him.

"I felt so good, though," continued Dal, ruefully. "I felt like I could polish off the Dane, even, and really had an idea, after I licked Russell and Jabez White and a few others, of trying to get a match with Nelson.

"I'm only 38, and have been fighting only fifteen years, but I know that I reached the limit some time ago. You see, I haven't fought for three years and my machinery needed oiling. But it's never again for me. No, sir! Not never no more! as the fellow says; that is, unless they frame up a bout with Major Doyle or somebody like that, with a big purse. Then I might go in training again, but as things now stand I'm going to stay with Attell a while and help him out."

EIGHTEEN RECORDS BROKEN BY SWIMMER IN ONE NIGHT

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—H. J. Handy, of the Central Young Men's Christian Association, broke thirteen world's and five American records in the Evanston Y. M. C. A. tank last night, and incidentally defeated William Loehde, of the Chicago Athletic Association, in a special 600-yard match race.

Handy did not break any records until the 240-yard mark was passed, but after that every record up to 600 yards was smashed, with the exception of the 300-yard mark, which he failed to lower by one-fifth of a second.

Following is the list of records set by Handy:

THIS FIGHTER A FARMER, TOO!

It is doubtful if any pugilist, whether retired or now before the public, leads as free and independent a life as does Tommy Ryan, claimant of the middleweight championship.

Ryan, whose right name is Joseph Youngs, has threatened time and again to go into permanent retirement and sail under the name his parents endowed him with, but he is just a trifle shy of burning bridges behind him in the fighting game.

If proper inducements were offered, Ryan would come out in fighting togs again and train long enough to show some ambitious individuals how to fight, and after counting his money, would hasten back to his farm at Benton Harbor, Mich.

IS A FARMER.

Ryan has a farm a few miles from Benton Harbor, which he has named "Fair Plains," and it is the simple life for Tommy. It is said of the clever middleweight that he had dreams of being a farmer, and as he grew older and took to the fighting business like a miner does to his pick, he saved his dollars, and as he made more he would say to himself: "Well, I can put part of that away, and here are a few dollars left for peach trees and a plow." After becoming independently wealthy—and Ryan is one of the richest men who ever gained his wealth from the prize ring—he decided to invest a small part of his fortune and realize the dreams of his boyhood days.

He went to Michigan and settled on a farm. He owns it, every inch of ground, every tree and every chicken on it. He always was fond of a quiet life, so his present manner of living is just to his fancy.

IT'S DIFFERENT.

Men who have not spent their lives on a farm and retired from business and bought a country place seldom take up the active duties of a farmer. But this is not the case with the world's famous boxer. Ryan is a farmer and is proud of it. He dresses as a working man should, and he not only superintends the work, but he gets out and hustles. Sunrise in the summer finds him up and ready for a day's toil. He handles a hoe as he would feint with his left before an opponent, and he delights in feeding his chickens and pets around the farm. When it comes to plowing, it is said that Ryan is an expert, and he knows how to take care of his horses and other stock as well as a man who has spent a score or more years in farm life.

Ryan is married and has all the conveniences of a modern city home, so it is not so bad after all.

ELECTRICAL SHOW.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The electrical show to be held at Madison Square Garden for two weeks, beginning December 12th, will, it is announced today, be formally opened by President Roosevelt, who, by the pressure of a button in the White House, will set in motion the machinery of the exhibition.

WRIGHT NOT USED TO COURT

Beals C. Wright, the national tennis champion, made his first appearance yesterday on the tennis courts in this city. Several hundred spectators were attracted to the California Club by the champion. The contestants were Wright and Joseph E. Tobin on one side of the net and Percy Murdock and Grant Smith on the other. The latter won two sets out of three. The score was 4—6, 7—5, 6—4.

While the match was an interesting one, it fell considerably short of the one played by the same teams at Burlingame on Sunday. Wright had not played on an asphalt court since he was out here six years ago, and his game suffered in consequence. The balls bunched much higher than in the grass courts, and the champion consequently had to change his stroke some. His overhead work was not as good as on Sunday. Tobin did not support the champion as well as he did at Burlingame.

Murdock and Smith played spasmodically. They were good and bad by turns. In the last set they put up a fast game and did good work at the net. Wright put more twist and speed into his play than was apparent to the spectators. Much of the short lobbing done by Murdock and Smith was due in a measure to the peculiar left-handed twist the champion put on the balls.

OAKLAND SCOTTISH BOWLERS WIN

A delegation of players from the San Francisco Scottish Bowling Club came over to Oakland on Saturday to play the return match game with the Oakland Scottish Bowling Club.

There were twelve players on each side, and they played three rinks of four players on each side, the game was keenly contested, some very excellent playing being a feature of the game. The score was a close one Oakland winning by only one point.

No. 3 rink was the most evenly matched, so much so that their game was not finished until it was nearly dark. The names of players and score by rinks was as follows:

Rink 1—Oakland 14; Geo. McMath, D. Brown, Wm. Chalmers, A. Proctor, skip. San Francisco 21; Hugh Forsie, M. L. Crowe, Rev. W. J. Fisher, W. R. [illegible], skip.

Rink 2—Oakland 21; W. Keay, J. [illegible]lle, W. H. Thomson, J. Patullo, skip. San Francisco 16; G. Patterson, Jas. Gray, J. Deasy, J. McLaughan, skip.

Rink 3—Oakland 21; A. [illegible], J. Rankin, J. Bell, J. Orchison, skip. San Francisco 18; A. Craig, T. Miller, Dr. Gunn, J. C. Moffitt, skip.

Total—Oakland 56 points; San Francisco 55 points.

REVISING THE CHARTER OF BERKELEY

Committee Receives Suggestions From Various Sources Regarding Government.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—At a meeting of the Charter Revision Committee last night at the Town Hall, a communication was received from E. L. Linforth announcing that he would be absent from the city and suggesting that the meeting take under consideration his proposition of having the Superintendent of Schools appointed by President Wheeler of the State University; also two members of the Board of Education. The suggestion was put on the table.

A letter was also received from the Political Equality Association, composed of educators throughout the State, offering suggestions as to the selection of Boards of Education and the Superintendent of Schools in Berkeley. The paper contained a complete list of various statistics concerning the methods of appointment in various municipalities. The report was placed on file to be considered at length later on.

FAVORS SMALL BOARD.

M. L. Hanscom favored reducing the number of school directors to five, on the ground that it would be easier to secure a quorum and much more work could be accomplished.

TALK OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

A letter was received concerning the matter of woman suffrage. The communication reviewed the work done by women in the town of Berkeley. It showed how women had given great satisfaction as town officials in various municipalities, even in India and in certain European cities. 'Women have served on school boards, prison and charity boards with great credit. Examples were given of women who have attracted attention by their wisdom and insight into municipal affairs. The communication was signed by Mrs. Lyman Allen, Mrs. N. T. Abbott, Mrs. A. W. Atherton and several other members of the political equality organization.

SUGGESTS ENGLISH SYSTEM.

A suggestion was made to the committee to adopt the English municipal government. The idea is to divide the town into nine wards and three trustees are to be selected from each ward, making a board of twenty-seven. The election is to be by petition. The town officers are to be selected by the council, which has entire supervision over all its work. The suggestion was placed on file for future consideration.

CALLING BOARD MEETINGS.

It was decided that a meeting of the Board of Trustees may be called by either four members or by the Mayor of the city as the presiding officer. In this way a check is placed on the Mayor as well as on the Board of Trustees. In case of friction between the two the work of the board can go on without hindrance. In case of special meetings notices must be sent to the members informing them as to the time of the meeting and the business of the meeting. In such cases the meeting can only consider the work for which it is called.

WANTS MEETINGS PUBLIC.

M. L. Hanscom suggested that all meetings of the board should be public and that no executive meetings or meetings as a committee of the whole be held. Several of the members believed that this would be inadvisable, as certain questions came up that require discussion behind closed doors. It was decided to reduce the size of the quorum of the conference committee to five instead of eight.

GETS IT HIMSELF

Popular Physician Takes Turn at La Grippe.

FRUITVALE, Nov. 22.—On account of the absence of Secretary Grubb on important business in San Francisco, there was no meeting of the Board of Trade Tuesday evening, and as the holidays are approaching with their diversions, it is quite likely that not much will be done further about incorporation until after New Years.

THE BAZAAR.

All the arrangements for the bazaar at the armory, to be given by the Ladies' Guild of the Fruitvale Congregational Church, are moving along very promptly and well, and the ladies expect to have everything in readiness for a grand opening tomorrow evening, when the favorite on the program of entertainment is to be Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, in readings, assisted by others. The program for Friday evening is to be furnished by the Forum organization, and is calculated to be unusually interesting. There will also be some kind of a program of entertainment Saturday evening, all for the single price of admission.

RECOVERING FROM GRIP.

Dr. J. H. Callen of Fruitvale avenue is recovering from a short but severe attack of la grippe.

FOOTBALL.

The Century Athletic Club and the Presidio Hospital Corps will contend for the record of superiority in football on the Twenty-third avenue levee, Thanksgiving Day, November 30, at 10:30 a. m.

ADVERTISED LETTERS

At Fruitvale postoffice are for Mrs. Nettie Crockett, Mrs. Wm. Donegan, Hattie Johnson, Mrs. Josiah McClain, Mrs. Chas. Smith, H. Chap, H. Hansen, Nell Madsen, M. C. Olley, J. Paley, C. E. Stanley.

MEDAL FOR PROFESSOR

Mining Man is Honored by Award.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—Professor S. B. Christy of the Department of Mining, University of California, has been awarded a diploma and a medal by the directors of the St. Louis Exposition for the paper which he read on the "Training of Mining Engineers," at the Congress of Arts and Sciences in September of last year.

During the recent military maneuvers in Servia one infantry regiment was lost for twenty-four hours. When it was finally sighted the men were at the bottom of a ravine dancing to music furnished by a gypsy camp.

CORRECT NUMBERS

Householders Must Comply With Law.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—F. W. Lockyer, town numberer, who for the last three months has been actively engaged in straightening out the street numbers of local residences, states that many persons whose houses are numbered incorrectly and others who have put up houses, have been slow in securing their numbers. As the ordinance, which provided that all houses incorrectly numbered and new houses, must secure their correct numbers, is now in effect, Lockyer declares he will immediately begin filing notices on persons who have failed to comply with the ordinance.

The persons presented with a notice of incorrect number or the failure to secure an official number, will lay themselves liable to arrest. Lockyer will begin filing notices on those who have failed to comply with the ordinance as soon as he receivts his notification blanks, which are now being printed.

CLUB IS NOVELTY

Sons of College Men Form Union.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—The "Second Generation Club" is the name of a unique organization that was established at the residence of P. T. Riley, a member of the class of '77, University of California. The club is composed of the sons and daughters of former students of the University, and thus far thirty-five members have been admitted.

The objects of the club will be to effect closer relations between the alumni and student body to revive and perpetuate such college songs as seem in danger of being lost, to foster worthy college traditions and to arouse interest in the historical associations of the University.

At the present time, the activity of the club will be directed toward providing a students' clubhouse on the campus. With this end in view the members will co-operate with the Alumni Association in raising funds for the construction of Alumni Hall, the plans of which have already been drawn.

The officers of the club are: President, R. P. Merritt, '07; vice-president, R. M. Searles, '07; secretary-treasurer, Miss Carmel Riley, '07; archivist, Miss Virginia C. Frank, '06.

Meetings will be held at stated intervals. Only those who are sons and daughters of former students will attend.

MRS. GAIGE WANTS A DIVORCE

E. K. TAYLOR, WHO HAS INVESTED IN THE AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS IN ALAMEDA.

Former Society Belle and Heiress of Alameda Brings Case in Court.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Florence E. Gaige, formerly of Alameda, is suing her husband, William J. Gaige, for divorce. The action is brought in the Superior Court of San Francisco county. Mrs. Gaige, before her marriage, was Miss Florence Brown, the daughter of Gorge Brown, a pioneer capitalist of Alameda. She was a society belle and an heiress, on the death of her father coming into a large fortune. Prior to her parent's death she married Gaige, the marriage being bitterly opposed by her father. Until a month ago the Gaiges liveed at 2103 San Jose avenue.

In her complaint Mrs. Gaige makes a number of startling allegations. She wants her husband restrained from entering her home at 1667 Washington street, claiming that she is afraid of him.

Mrs. Gaige says, of her husband: "For weeks before he left his family in last September, he talked daily of murders and suicides. Newspaper accounts of disputes betwen husbands and wives which culminated in death interested him, and he made such remarks as, 'The man ought to have killed the woman,' and 'Killing was about the right thing.'"

His talk caused Mrs. Gaige to fear that he might murder her and commit suicide. She says that he has been drinking to excess for years. On several occasions he beat her, and in May last tried to choke her to death. Last year, when she locked her door for safety, he battered it in with a plank.

ITALIAN WANTED TO SING.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—Tom Morello wanted to sing, and because he had faith in his dulcet tones and a sublime confidence in the appreciation of the public ear, Morello found himself rudely "run in" Sunday night by an unfeeling and unmusical patrolman.

Morello strolled along Park street and paused to listen to the earnest words of revivalists, speaking and singing at the corner of Park street and Santa Clara avenue. When the little band of workers struck up a hymn, Morello, from his point of vantage on the sidewalk, joined in the chorus.

Morello, it was claimed, sang with a cracked voice, and instead of adding harmony, produced discord. It was declared that he was disturbing a religious meeting, and when Patrolman James McDonnell appeared he took the offender to the City Prison, where he was charged with disturbing the peace and quiet of the people of the State of California. In Italy, Morello asserts, no one would ever be arrested for singing. The trouble with Morello, it appears, is that he chose the wrong time and place to flood the wailing air with music.

Morello apeared in court yesterday morning before Justice of the Peace Fred S. Cone, and the magistrate feeling that the operatic Italian had suffered sufficiently during his incarceration in jail, allowed him to go.

LINEMAN'S ESCAPE.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—William Gardener, a lineman in the employ of the Pacific States Telephone Company, had a narrow escape on Monday afternoon from death by electrocution. Gardener was working on a pole at the corner or Alameda avenue and Walnut street, when he came in contact with a wire that was short-circuited with one of the power wires of the Municipal Electric Light and Power Works. He sustained a shock of 1500 volts, and was nearly rendered unconscious.

The network of wires saved him from being dashed to the pavement forty feet below. Friends rescued him from his perilous plight. Beyond a badly burned hand, he was uninjured.

AUTOMOBILE STORE.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—A new garage on an elaborate scale is to be opened shortly on Central avenue just west of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company's building, and in the company are ex-Senator E. K. Taylor, Paul K. Buckley, Frank J. Smith and William Kune.

About $10,000 will be invested, and the appointments in every respect will be first class. The building is now in course of construction, and will be ready for occupancy within three weeks.

The company will have two fine cars for the renting business, which will be handled by two competent chauffeurs, and the extensive repair department will be in charge of an expert Eastern mechanic. Mr. Buckley is a well known autoist, while the others interested are not ne wto the business, so that the success of the venture should be assured.

PRIZE WINNERS.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—The prize winners at the whist party held under the auspices of Laurel Lodge at Woodmen Hall on Monday evening were: First prize, tobacco box, J. H. Mait, score, 158; second, ash and cigar tray, Arthur Suennen, 145; third, hand painted plate, Miss G. Suennen, 142; fourth, vase, Mrs. Tolmare, 139; fifth, leather booklet, Mrs. Jennie Walsh, 138; sixth, spoonholder, Ray Rice, 138.

CHURCH BAZAAR

Ladies of Guild to Receive Guests.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—The ladies of St. Mark's Guild will hold their annual bazaar Thursday afternoon and evening in the Parish House of St. Mark's Church.

Many beautiful articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be shown and to those who enjoy dainty needlework a treat is in store. The bazaar is given in aid of the altar fund. Always one of the pleasantest events of the winter months in church circles, many are expected to attend.

The tea table is to be presided over by the following hostesses: Miss Kate Safford, Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. J. R. Chapman and Mrs. Wetmore. In charge of the other tables will be: Fancy work, Mrs. W. H. Cameron, Miss Mary Mott, Mrs. Johnston, Miss Fahrenburg and their efficient assistants. Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Kimball Easton will preside over the art table. Lemonade, dipped from the old-fashioned well, will be served by Miss Carrie Clinton, Miss Delzie Thomas and Mrs. Gould. Candy and salted nuts are to be disposed of by Mrs. W. P. Havens, assisted by Miss Belle Coffin, Miss Freda Moore, Miss Burnett and Miss Emily Holmes. All sorts of dolls will be shown at the fancy table of Miss Annie Youngs and Miss Ella Carpenter. Many dainty articles are to be shown at the five, ten and fifteen cent table, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Robert Braden, Mrs. Ingle and Mrs. Arthur Dodd having this in charge.

OFFICER ARRESTED.

MANILA, Nov. 22.—Lieutenant Hugh Kirkham of the Eighth Cavalry has been arrested at Fort McKinley on the charge of forgery. It is alleged that Lieutenant Kirkham was short of troop funds to the amount of $500 and that he raised the money by forging names to a note.

BIG DEAL IN DIRT

Tract to be Put in Market Soon.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—An immense realty project, designed to bring a host of homeseekers to Berkeley, will be launched within the next two weeks when the Carpentier tract, consisting of 91 acres in the northwestern portion of the city, will be thrown open for investment. This great tract is situated on San Pablo avenue. Hopkins street, the picturesque avenue that leads to Peralta Park, runs through the center of it.

It was but a short time ago that the local business world was startled by the stupendous deal transferring the land from H. W. Carpentier to a company headed by H. S. Patton and W. A. Irwin, the consideration being $90,000. For years Mr. Carpentier, who is a pioneer of the bay region, had declared that he would never sell the land except in its entirety, and it remained for a coterie of enterprising business men to take up the task of subdividing the land for which there are already numerous applications. Mr. Patton has been identified with the local realty market for some time, while Mr. Irwin has been located in the realty business in San Francisco.

It is the intention of the realty company handling the tract to sell lots on easy payments with interest and taxes eliminated. All street work, which will be commenced early next year, will be done free of cost to purchasers.

PETTY SWINDLE

"Ad." Man Works Merchants of Berkeley.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—The young man who last week attempted to secure cash down from H. R. Sorensen for advertising space on a fake menu card, has visited a number of merchants about the town, despite the fact that the manner of his swindle was made public Saturday night.

Since that time the young man visited Hoesall's cigar store, the Students Express and S. J. Sill. How many others were talked to is not known, but it is believed he got away with about $50. Sill says he refused to talk with the fellow when approached, having remembered him as being the same person who solicited for a similar deal about a year ago.

CHARGED WITH BEING CRUEL TO ANIMALS

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—J. E. Stuart, a contractor who resides at 2155 Dwight way, was arraigned before Justice Edgar yesterday morning on a charge of cruelty to animals, preferred by E. J. Rogers. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, and his trial was set for November 29 at 10 o'clock in the morning.

A. Bleakley, a driver employed by Stuart was first taken into custody by Rogers for driving a horse with a sore on his shoulder. An investigation of the case disclosed the fact that Bleakley had his choice between driving the sick horse or quitting his position. As a result, he was released and his employer arrested. Stuart is out on $25 bail.

NEWARK NOTES

NEWARK, Nov. 22.—The Ferris family has removed to Berkeley, where Mr. Ferris will, with a partner, conduct a plumbing business.

Mrs. H. Sanborn spent Friday and Saturday attending to business in San Francisco and Oakland.

Mrs. W. Arthur Pratt visited San Francisco on Friday last.

George May and Joe Paise, Sunday, lost from their cabin on the marsh, the former, implements for cleaning his gun, and the latter a sum of money left in his pocket, while he was absent hunting. J. Silva also had game stolen from his cabin.

C. Jones and sister, who have for several years lived in the Pike cottage, are now living in the company's cottage, on Thornton avenue.

George Graham is with a party which has gone on a hunting trip. On his return Mr. Graham will take a trip East, on business.

Mr. Friermuth's cottage is almost completed, and L. Christensen's is under way.

Two families are now occupying the Ruthford house.

SAVED A GIRL FRIEND FROM DEATH

Brave Act of Young Student Saves a Home From Destruction.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—The quick wit and cool nerve displayed by Miss Pearl Lewis, a university student, saved from death a girl friend, Miss Isabel Whiteman, at the latter's home on Durant street, yesterday afternoon. Miss Whiteman was threatened with death from flames that had been generated while the girls were working with an alcohol lamp, her clothing catching fire.

Miss Lewis saw the deadly danger that threatened her girl friend and like a flash she darted to a divan in the corner of the room, snatched two big pillows from the couch and with these smothered the flames that had already eaten away a portion of the frail house gown Miss Whiteman wore.

Then the brave university girl grasped the burning, sputtering alcohol lamp, which threatened to again send forth streamers of flame, as it had done a few seconds before, and coolly walked from the house, carrying the lamp to the lawn. She had not made her movement a moment too soon, for the smoking lamp had not been out of her hand more than a few seconds when it exploded with a loud report, sending out wisps of flame, which, had they been within reach of inflammable stuff instead of green grass, would have done serious damage.

The young women were using the alcohol lamp as an aid to some pyrographic work, which consisted of burning some designs in wood with a needle heated by flame from the alcohol lamp. In some manner unknown to them the lamp ignited Miss Whiteman's clothing.

SOUTHERN WOMEN ARE TO ORGANIZE

Ladies of Berkeley Form Chapter of Daughters of Confederacy.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—The first chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to be established on this side of the bay was organized yesterday afternoon in Berkeley, by a number of Southern ladies who are resident in Berkeley, and who hitherto have held their membership in some of the chapters in San Francisco, of which there are three.

The Berkeley chapter is to be called the Berkeley-Joseph Le Conte Chapter, in honor of Professor Le Conte, who was of a prominent Southern family, and who came to California from the South, years ago.

Mrs. Annie Voorheis, who is president of the Albert Sydney Johnson Chapter in San Francisco, assisted in the organization of the Berkeley chapter yesterday, a number of other ladies from San Francisco also being deeply interested in the new organization.

The officers elected by the Berkeley chapter are as follows: President, Mrs. Antoinette Stearns; vice-presidents, Mrs. Emily Robeson, Mrs. N. G. Hines, Mrs. J. C. Harris; treasurer, Mrs. Addie Burns; recording secretary, Miss Dozier; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Ingle.

The next meeting of the chapter is to be held on December 11, at the home of Mrs. Ingle, at 2457 Piedmont avenue, when details of the work will be discussed, and arrangements made for furthering the interests of the chapter.

LIGHT AND WATER

San Leandroans Hear From Trustee.

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 22.—Trustee Hoerst of the Town Board was present at the meeting Monday evening, having returned from his tour of inspection and instruction on behalf of the board to the State meeting of representatives of California municipalities at Chico. Mr. Hoerst gave his fellow trustees an extensive and intelligent report of what he had had the advantages to learn, at the close of which he was given a vote of thanks by them.

Among the subjects of interest which he touched upon, as those upon which new light would be thrown that could be useful in town affairs, were the putting of the tax levey in budget form, the fire department, street macadamizing and grading, and public lighting. He said he was able to see from the figures presented there that San Leandro was lighted much cheaper than most cities in California.

The subject of water supply for cities was not touched upon at the convention, as the subject was at the last of the program, and for lack of time was not reached.

The action previously taken on the ordinance creating a fire department fund was reconsidered, and the ordinance passed to print by a unanimous vote.

A petition representing a majority of the frontage on Davis street was received, praying that the proposed grade adopted by the board at a previous meeting be not acted upon, but that the present Castro grade be used in grading and paving the street. A resolution affirmatively in accordance with the petition was passed.

Andrew Coffey, a representative of the Gamewell fire alarm apparatus, was present and gave some exposition of that apparatus.

Trustee Barbiero was absent.

Nothing more has been done about the matter of direct telephonic connection between the fire department and the water works at Lake Chabot, because it is now intended by the trustees to put in a complete city system of telephonic fire alarm, of which a line to the water works would be a part, and which would ring there in all cases of alarm.

ANNUAL BALL.

The first annual ball of Council No. 9, S. P. R. S. I., and Council No. 41, U. P. E. C., of Ashland, will be given at I. D. E. S. Hall in that place Saturday evening, November 25. Music will be furnished by Riggs' popular orchestra. It promises to be a grand affair. Admission 25 cents, including children. Committee of arrangements: Mrs. M. Lewis, M. F. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Caldeira, Mrs. J. B. Sampson, J. Souto. Floor manager, Joseph Souto; assistant floor manager, Mrs. C. J. Calderia.

PRESIDENT WHEELER SOON WILL RETURN

BERKELEY, November 22.—The university meeting will be held in the Harmon gymnasipm at 11 o'clock, Friday morning, November 24. President Wheeler is expected home in time to be with the students at this meeting. There will be the usual speaking, singing, and announcements. All other university exercises will be suspended during this hour.

PIRATES OF PENZANCE

Hayward Choral Union to Give It.

HAYWARD, Nov. 22.—Smallpox of a very mild form has broken out in the Silveria family living close by the County Infirmary. The parents and the baby are down. Dr. Chalmers of Niles, county quarantine officer, put the house in quarantine.

SMITH TO THE FRONT.

The finals of the Maccabee tournament at whist took place Monday evening, three tables playing. The watch, a handsome gun metal case, was finally won by C. H. Smith. Smith and Tom Gibson tied for first place in the general games, but in the saw-off of thirty-one points Smith came out winner.

GOOD MR. TOYNE.

A handsomely done and handsomely framed crayon portrait of Geo. Toyne, the originator of the Hayward Free Public Library, is on exhibition in the window of Rogers' drug store.

CHORAL UNION.

The Choral Union will have its first try-out of the "Pirates of Penzance" opera in the basement of Captain Madison's home this evening, instead of in the High School building.

THANKSGIVING BASEBALL.

There will probably be a game of baseball on the local diamond on Thanksgiving Day for the benefit of the Hayward Baseball Association. The opposing teams spoken of are to be made up from the Oakland Elks and Eden Parlor of Native Sons.

DONATES SEAT.

E. S. Warren has donated the Library Trustees a seat for use in the library made from an old pine tree that was planted on the lot fifty years ago.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

At the Hayward potsoffice: Maria do Jesus Barcelas, Izabel da Correia, Mrs. A. Eyselee, J. Hamilton, Jens. Chr. Jensen.

CAUGHT IN FIRE.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 22.—Four men were caught early today in the upper story of the Sundial Hotel by a fire on one of the lower floors, and while all were finally taken out by the firemen, one of them, William Hennessy of this city was unconscious from smoke and will probably die.

A Boston traveling man named Shannon had a narrow escape, while Edwin Bowen, the proprietor, and Fred Klobedanz, the ball player, were rescued with difficulty. The hotel was badly damaged.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

In the Superior Court in and for the County of Alameda, State of California.

In the matter of the estate of Patrick McGee, deceased. No. 9662.

Kate McGowan, the administratrix of the estate of Patrick McGee, deceased, having filed her petition herein duly verified, praying for an order of sale of the whole of the real estate of said deceased for the purpose of paying the debts, expenses and charges of the administration of said estate and also for the reason that it would be for the advantage, benefit and best interests of the estate and those interested therein as fully set forth in the said petition.

It is therefore ordered by the said Court that all persons interested in the estate of said Patrick McGee, deceased, appear before said Superior Court on Friday the 6th day of October, A. D. 1905, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the forenoon of said day at the Courtroom of department number 4, Probate, of the said Superior Court at the Court-house in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, on the west side of Broadway between Fourth and Fifth streets, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said Administratrix to sell at private sale the whole of the real estate, of said deceased, described in said petition for the purposes therein mentioned.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in the Oakland TRIBUNE a newspaper printed, published and circulated in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, at least once a week for four successive weeks.

F. B. OGDEN,
Judge of said Superior Court.

Dated September 1, A. D. 1905.

WHOSE SAY-SO IS BEST?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone and exclusively as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their owners' and makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines. Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. Jno. King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow and scores of others equally eminent.

The writings of these have been for the various medical journals and for publication in standard medical books for professional reading and instruction, and hence are the more valuable as they relate to Dr. Pierce's medicines, since the writers did not know that they were endorsing and recommending articles that enter into the composition of these medicines and had no personal interest whatever therein. Hence, their great value as endorsements.

A brief synopsis, of a small part only, of these extensive writings, which apply to the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the world-famed remedy for weak stomach, or dyspepsia, torpid or congested liver, biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments—has been compiled for publication in book form. These extracts also treat of the several ingredients entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, "run-down," debilitated, nervous women, who find in it a priceless boon.

Send your name and address by postal card or letter, with request for this little book, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will be mailed free to your address. From it you will learn why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrh of the nasal passages, even though of years' standing. It is a most potent constitutional remedy for this terribly common and generally unsuccessfully treated malady. The cure will be facilitated if Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy be employed to cleanse out the nasal passages at the same time that the "Discovery" is employed for the constitutional treatment.

The "Discovery" is equally efficient in the cure of catarrh of the stomach and bowels, and in cases of ulceration of these organs. Read what Doctors King, Scudder, Grover Coe, and others say of the curative properties of Golden Seal root and of Stone root in cases of the above diseases. Both these roots are important ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery." From the writings of these same authors you will learn, why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures chronic, or lingering ailments of the throat and bronchia attended with hoarseness, cough, soreness and kindred symptoms. Several of the ingredients in the "Golden Medical Discovery" are highly recommended for their specific, curative effects in laryngitis, or "Speakers' sore throat," as well as in incipient consumption and obstinate, lingering coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated, are apt to end in consumption.

From the same little book you may learn why Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anti-version and retro-version and corrects irregularities, cures painfull periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh, and why inflammation of the ovaries and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women, readily yield to its marvelous curative potency. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and cheerfully takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

That every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has the endorsement of the leading medical writers of the age amply attests its harmless character as well as its sterling curative value. Send your address for the little book and read what some of the most eminent medical men of this century say of the curative properties contained in the several ingredients which go to make up Dr. Pierce's leading medicines. No other medicines are backed up by such marvelous, disinterested, professional endorsements. This one fact is worth more and should have more weight in determining whether these non-secret medicines, or some secret compounds without professional endorsement and with only the makers' praise to recommend them, are best and most likely to effect important cures.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities. The little free book mentioned in the preceding column will tell you all about the properties and uses of these most valuable medicinal roots. Send for it NOW.

Your druggists sells the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Dr. Pierce's 1000-page illustrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For 31 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. It was formerly sold for $1.50 per copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TELLS OF MONEY MARKET

Henry Clews, the Financial Authority, Gives Tips on Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Easier conditions in the money market were promptly followed by a recovery in stocks, and a continuance of this recovery still depends largely upon the course of monetary affairs. Relief was obtained from three sources: partly by stock liquidation and a consequent contraction of loans; next, by borrowings abroad; and, lastly, by partial return of funds from the interior. There was some expectation that Secretary Shaw would come to the relief of the money market in case of emergency, but so far his action has not been necessary. At no time is it desirable that the money market should be under the control of a single individual, even though he be a thoroughly disinterested and high-minded government official, but this particular paternalistic feature is one of the evils of our inelastic and confused monetary system that calls for a remedy. It is quite evident that the money market is not yet in a position to aid any extended manipulation of stocks. Legitimate business requirements are still very urgent and will continue to absorb all available funds for weeks to come; shrewd bankers foreseeing that any extended demands upon the banks for speculative purposes might easily bring commercial disaster. Our banks have all they can do to properly take care of regular business needs; and were funds diverted from such channels into speculative movements the result would be disastrous to business interests and seriously interfere with our present era of prosperity.

FOREIGN SITUATION.

The foreign situation is also one that prudent men cannot ignore. Russia appears to be in a state of chaos, the outcome of which is still beyond human calculations. With so many bitterly conflicting interests, and in the absence of strong leadership, the prospect of an early solution of Russia's difficulties is indeed gloomy; and so long as the situation remains so chaotic it cannot avoid exerting an unfavorable effect upon Russian credit and Russian securities, which have already suffered a sharp decline. Evidently there is no thought of placing the Russian loan at present, and foreign bankers are probably doing their utmost to sustain the market value of Russian bonds. Fortunately Paris, which is the main point of support for Russian finance, is financially strong. Berlin, however, has been somephat inconvenienced by Russian financing; and London, while comparatively free of Russian entanglements, is in no condition to give much help, considering present low Bank of England reserves. These facts are simply cited to show that in case of necessity New York cannot readily secure any great amount of assistance from Europe. In spite of the recent drop in exchange it seems unlikely that gold will be imported in any important amounts, and, on the contrary, we are more likely to export gold as soon as our market returns to normal conditions. Imports of merchandise into the United States continue exceedingly heavy. In October last they were valued at $107,600,000, an increase of $5,200,000 over the same month last year. During the same period our exports were $154,400,000, a decrease of $8,000,000, the consequence being that the month showed an excess of exports of less than $47,000,000, compared with about $70,000,000 the same month last year. This makes it sufficiently plain that the present tendency of our foreign trade is towards shipping and not attracting gold.

SPECULATIVE SITUATION.

The speculative situation just now is exceedingly interesting. Fundamental conditions are highly encouraging and stimulating. The great wave of business activity, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf, shows no signs whatever of recession. Our railroads, our mills, our furnaces, our mines, our merchants are all taxed to their utmost capacity, and still production does not appear to have overtaken consumption: a stage that, when it arrives, will be the first signal of reaction. As a result of this activity, many of our railroads and our industrials are making unusual earnings and unexpected gains to profit account. Prices, it is true, are high, very high, and have amply discounted the prosperity of 1905; but should 1906 be a year of still greater profits—what then? However undesirable it may be, however deplorable the consequences, it seems that it will be difficult to indefinitely restrain the speculative spirit. If profits are growing, and dividends are to be increased on stocks which have not yet enjoyed that distinction, or paid upon watered stocks which have never yielded any return, it may be practically impossible to prevent a subsequent rise and an undesirable outburst of speculation. That contingency is not yet in sight, but the drift is in that direction and confidence is almost overstrong. It will, therefore, behoove our great bankers to restrain and not encourage such an outbreak as far as is within their undeniable power. Their interests and the larger interests of the country can best be served by keeping speculation within the bounds of temperance; and upon them will chiefly fall the responsibility of exercising such restraint.

FIRM RATES.

During the remainder of the year firm rates are likely to prevail for money. The course of both the money and the stock markets, however, after the middle of January, will be a matter of much curiosity. Fortunately the prospect of adverse railroad legislation is less pronounced than during the midsummer. President Rosevelt is still very firm in his determination to secure some sort of regulation towards a "square deal," but he seems to be yielding somewhat in his idea of having the government "fix the rate;" the active discussion of which is proving that such a piece of paternalism would be not only highly injurious to private property, but a menace to a very large and influential labor constituency. As matters are now shaping, there is little prospect of any injurious railroad legislation during the coming session of Congress. Recent insurance disturbances have had an unsettling effect upon the public mind, but the tide of optimism is running so strong that these incidents seem to be quickly forgotten. Perhaps the most important factor in the speculative outlook just now is the attitude of the big market leaders. Some of these are known to be distinctly bullish owing to the prosperity of the great corporations which they control. Certain of them are known to be very large holders of stocks and intent upon pushing prices to a higher level as soon as general conditions permit. Other equally important interests are known to be passive and, while not resisting any advance, show little inclination to assist it. The latter element have been preaching conservatism for some time, and whether they have declined to openly join in with the bulls because they wish to buy at a lower level or whether they really desire to place a wholesome restraint upon market movements is not yet divulged. In any event, we are likely to have an attractive trading market for some weeks to come. Good stocks will be a purchase on sharp reactions, yet we continue to advise sales on the good rallies until the monetary outlook becomes more satisfactory. Liquidation did some good, but it would have been healthier had contraction been a little more drastic.

RAILROAD RATES ARE DISCUSSED

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Congressman Charles E. Townsend, of Jackson, Mich., joint father of the Esch-Townsend bill, addressed the members of the Hamilton Club last night on the subject of railroad rates and the need of revised legislation to prevent discrimination between shippers. His principal suggestion was that there should be provided a uniform system for handling railroad accounts, and that this should be done with such publicity that it would remove the opportunities for evading the law.

"Competition practically has been abolished," said Congressman Townsend, "and classifications are fixed by the will and caprice of irresponsible agents whose salaries depend upon getting the most possible for carrying freight."

He spoke of the discrimination which results from the effort to put water competition out of business and of the repeated requests of the commission for power to listen to complaints, and, if they are found justified, to prescribe a just rate.

"This is the pending issue," he continued, "and such is the proposed relief. We are told that the commission cannot assume to fix even a single rate without disturbing business conditions, although the same step may be taken by traffic men without harm.

"The railroads doubtless will, if such a law is passed, oppose it and make its execution difficult; but if it is found to be constitutional, and to confer positive remedial powers upon the commission, I expect to see the railroads themselves take up the adjustment of rates. Only the unjust rates are aimed at, and no unfair rate will be forced upon the carriers."

He declared that many of the evils which are mentioned in connection with railroad rates are mere symptoms of the disease, which itself must be cured before relief can be secured. Among these he included the rates for refrigeration, which he called a part of the transportation service, and with it also he classed terminal track service.

George W. Kretzinger, attorney for several railroads in Chicago, was the other speaker of the evening. He declared that if the provisions of the Elkins' law are made more stringent, and then properly enforced, no other changes in the railroad laws will be necessary.

WOMEN FAVOR FOUNTAIN

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT CLUB WOULD HAVE ONE ON THE TRIANGLE.

At this weeks' meeting of the Women's Civic Improvement Club the report of the year's meetings was read by the secretary.

Mrs. C. A. Bushell had the most interesting announcement to make in regard to the public fountain to be erected on the triangle at Sixteenth and Broadway. Mrs. Bushell called upon J. O. Mott of the iron works, and an agreement was made to erect the monument to the public spirited women of Oakland at a cost of $2100, with $600 reduction, made as a donation to the cause.

Mr. Kahn of the drygoods firm has promised to place a photo of the fountain in his show windows, with an appeal to the citizens of Oakland to extend further donations.

The reports further showed the following addresses made during the year:

Miss Bertha Chapman, "Children's Gardens, Objects and Possibilities."

Superintendent McClymonds, "On Public School Buildings and General Sanitary Conditions and Influences."

Prof. Pryal, "Botanical Gardens as an Education of the Youth in Nature Studies."

Mrs. Gorham, president of Vallejo Civic Improvement Club, on "Work It Had Accomplished."

Miss M. Tyrrell, teacher of nature study in Polytechnic High School.

Miss R. C. Felton, "The Prison Reform Bill."

C. S. Greene, "Circulating Library for the Blind."

Captain Petersen, "Juvenile Court System."

Mr. Melbourn, "On Management and System of the Pacific Incinerating Company."

Mayor Frank K. Mott, "The City Beautiful."

Mr. Hartog, "The Work Accomplished by Alameda Improvement Club."

GEORGE W. PERKINS ARRIVES FROM EUROPE

NEW YORK, November 22.—George W. Perkins, partner of J. Pierpont Morgan and vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, arrived here from Europe on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse last night.

Asked whether he had seen "Judge" Andrew Hamilton, wanted as a witness in the legislative insurance investigation abroad, Mr. Perkins said: "No, I did not see Mr. Hamilton. I did not go for the purpose of seeing him. I did not want to see him, and I had no instructions to see him. My visit to Europe did not concern him at all."

As to the Russian loan and financial matters in general, Mr. Perkins was exceedingly reticent. "Reports that have come from Russia are very much exaggerated," he said, "and the situation is not nearly as bad as it is painted."

"Did you really have to charter a boat and pay a large sum in order to get away from St. Petersburg?" Mr. Perkins was asked.

"There is not a word of truth in these stories," was the reply. "I had no trouble getting out of St. Petersburg, and there was no reason for any hurry."

NEGRO LYNCHED.

COAHAMA, Miss., Nov. 22.—David Sims, the negro who shot and killed R. F. (Deacon) Jones at his home one mile from Baugh station in this county on Sunday night, was lynched by an armed mob at the scene of his crime early today.

Sims was captured last night by a posse and immediately brought to this place. Several citizens interviewed the negro and they say he made a full confession. Sims was placed aboard a train and taken to Baugh station, the scene of the crime, and without any excitement strung up to a tree.

CAPT. M'LEAN RECOVERS

It gives us much pleasure to announce the recovery from Bright's Disease of Captain W. H. McLean of the big ocean liner City of Sydney. His physicians believed his recovery was impossible. In December the dropsy had developed to an alarming degree. To use the Captain's own words, "The swelling was so great that I could stick a finger in the flesh almost an inch."

His old friend, T. A. Donlon, the druggist of 1801 Fillmore street, told him he knew of worse cases of Bright's Disease than his getting well under Fulton's Compound.

Another friend made about the same remark to him. This time it was J. W. Burnham, president of the Burnham & Marsh Co., 211 Montgomery street. Burnham told him of a friend of his who was in a hospital in Alameda and so critically ill with Bright's Disease that his early death was looked upon as a certainty when his relatives took him home and put him on the Compound, with the result that he is well and at business today.

In view of the position the physicians had taken as to the hopelessness of his case, it can be readily imagined that these hopeful statements from old friends influenced him to adopt Fulton's Renal Compound.

He sent for a half dozen, and the contest between the claims of orthodox medicine that chronic Bright's Disease is not curable and the contention of Fulton's Compound that it is, was on.

We today announce the result.

We are permitted by the Captain to say that his recovery is complete and that he can pass for insurance. He states that he has told travelers about it from all over the world. And among the happiest of his associates are his old friends, Donlon and Burnham, who so strongly urged the measures that saved his life.

If you have Bright's Disease or Diabetes, or have any friend that has, don't permit them to die under the antiquated belief that they cannot recover, but send for literature to Jno. J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco.
